PROPOSED PARNELL DEMONSTRATION AT NEWCASTLE WEST.

Since the followers of Mr McCarthy dissolved, by a majority of ten, the branch of the National League here on Sunday last, the Parnellites have been busy in striving to gain accessions to their standard, and it cannot be doubted but the member for Cork has a strong following in this town. Posters have been issued calling on the farmers to rally round the "old chief" who done so much for them. The National League is to be re-established, and a public meeting in support of Mr Parnell is to be held here. At a special meeting of the Parnell Leadership Committee, Sunday the 6th of April was fixed as the day for holding the demonstration, and Mr Parnell himself will, it is said, be present, unless prevented by previous engagements. At all events several of his prominent followers will attend, and contingents are to be invited from all portions of West Limerick, so that the meeting promises to be one of much importance. It is stated that some members of the McCarthy party will visit the town, and address an indoor meeting very soon, and in the meantime the National Federation has been established.—COR.

SUDDEN DEATH OF ALDERMAN PETER M'DONALD, M.P.

Alderman Peter M'Donald, M.P. for North Sligo, died very suddenly on Thursday evening, shortly after ten o'clock, at his residence, Clarinda Park, Kingstown. Mr M'Donald was apparently in the enjoyment of good health, and his death was quite unexpected. He was taken ill shortly before the hour stated, when Dr MacDermott and Dr Newland were summoned, but their skill was unavailing. Apoplexy was the immediate cause of death. Mr McDonald had been for many years engaged in the wholesale wine and grocery business in the city. He was first elected as a Commissioner of Kingstown, and afterwards represented the Mountjoy Ward, in the Municipal Council, and was elected as senior Councillor to the position of Alderman, which position he occupied up to his death. Mr M'Donald, was about 51 years of age. He was High Sheriff of Dublin in 1886, and was an anti-Parnellite. The deceased gentleman was a native of Kilfinane, Co Limerick.

The Press Association says—Although no definite arrangement will be made for some days respecting the vacancy in North Sligo, caused by the death of Mr Peter M'Donald, there is likely to be a keen contest for the seat between the two sections of the Irish party.

The Freeman's London correspondent says that when Mr Parnell returns from Galway arrangements will be made with regard to nominating a candidate for the seat.

ADJOURNED PETTY SESSIONS.

Mr J. B. Irwin, R.M., Dr O'Shaughnessy, and Mr Z. Myles presided at the adjourned Petty Sessions to-day, and disposed of over forty cases of drunkenness. Fines varying from 2s 6d to 10s 6d were imposed. A man named Michael Flynn was put forward in custody charged by Sergeant Hanley with the larceny of two bran bags. The sergeant stated that he was in a marine store in Cornwallis-street, when the accused came in and offered the bags for sale; not being able to satisfactorily account as to how he became possessed of them, the sergeant arrested him; he always looked upon the accused as an honest man. Flynn stated that the bags were his own, and on the application of the sergeant he was allowed out to be summoned. Michael Collins, a jarvey, was charged by Head-Constable Phelan with having been drunk in charge of a horse and cart. Mr Irwin said the charge was a serious one, and inquired if these men were licensed. Head-Constable Phelan said they had certificates. Mr Irwin said in Dublin they would be suspended if found guilty of such an offence. The defendant was fined 10s supernuous to do so, having regard to the le accomplishments of your foreman. Gentlem you will now retire.

Mr S. Ronan, Q C, and Mr R. M. Heanes
B.L. (instructed by Mr C. J. Morphy, C S), p secuted in this and other cases.

The prisoner was undefended.

the late train from Tralee to Castleisland the day in question, and he met the prisoner, w struck him on the lip with a stone. He gave provocation whatever for the assault.

Dr Fitzmaurice gave evidence as to the inj received by last witness. There was a sev lacerated wound on the lip and cheek which pe trated into the mouth.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and lordship sentenced him to four months' impris ment with hard labour.

LARCENY.

Jeremiah Brien was indicted for having stol a coat, a pocket handkerchief, and penknife fr a boy named Hannafin.

Mr W C Hennessy, B L, defended.

Hannafin deposed he slept in the same hou with the prisoner on the 24th January. Wh he awoke in the morning he missed his co handkerchief, and penknife.

Sergeant Murphy deposed to finding the stol articles in prisoner's possession.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and t prisoner was sentenced to 14 days' imprisonme with hard labour.

MANSLAUGHTER.

Michael Kelleher, a carman, was charged wi the manslaughter of a man named Dennehy, Kilorglin, on the 19th of April last year.

Mr D. Mahony, B L, (instructed by Mr Shi solicitor), defended.

John Grady, farmer, deposed that Denneh the deceased man, left Killorglin with him the night in question; when they were a sho distance outside the town, Dennehy got out his (witness's) car and walked on the road;
car then came up and passed him on towar Dennehy; the car knocked Dennehy on the ro and passed over his feet; before Dennehy w knocked witness cried out—"Don't run over t man"; after the accident the prisoner, who w driving the car that knocked Dennehy, dro away; Dennehy was an old man and was deaf.

Cross-examined by Mr Mahony—Prisoner w not driving very fast; he drove quicker aft passing Dennehy.

To his Lordship—He (witness) was of opini that prisoner didn't know that Dennehy w injured.

Sergeant M'Birney deposed to having arrest prisoner, who said he was not driving very fast the time of the accident.

Evidence for the defence having been given,

The jury retired, and returned with a ve dict of guilty with a strong recommendation mercy.

MANSLAUGHTER.

Mary Connell, a midwife, was charged wi the manslaughter of a woman named Coffee, criminal neglect, on the 26th July.

Mr D. M'Carthy Mahony (instructed by Mr P. Broderick) defended.

The evidence went to show that the prison absented herself from attendance on deceas when her presence was absolutely necessary, a by so doing hemorrhage was caused, and dea ensued.

After the lapse of an hour the jury announc that it was impossible for them to agree to verdict.

His Lordship said he believed the jury h given the case an honest consideration, a though they had not agreed he did not think was in any way their fault, and he according discharged them and ordered the prisoner to
