DEATHS.

At Cullenswood, Dublin, sincerely lamented by her family and friends, Eliza, relict of the late Arthur Brereton, Esq. of this City—a lady of great worth and piety.
At Caledon, county of Tyrone, Richard Robinson Lodge, Esq. Captain and Adjutant of the Royal Tyrone Regiment.
At Gleneffy, in this county, on Sunday last, after a long and painful illness, Letitia, the beloved wife of George L. Bennett, Esq. Among the many instances of mortality, even in early life, few present so affecting a case of trial—so mild, yet decided a victory of true Christian faith and hope over nature and suffering, as the one we now record. A most loving mother, snatched from all this world holds dear—a lovely interesting family—a faithful and affectionate husband—a sister who was to her as her own soul, and a home filled with every comfort within, and surrounded with much that was beautiful without—parting all these with resignation, and putting off the shattered tabernacle of clay with hope; nay more, to be 'happy' at the last in CHRIST, in the prospect of so great a change, and amidst the most distracting torture of disease, argues a reality and power in Divine truth, which alone can make us 'more than conquerors through HIM that loved us,' and affords a consolation and example to her surviving friends, who mourn, not as those without hope!
At his house in Cashel, Mr. John M'Grath, the oldest and a most respectable member of the Cathedral choir of Cashel.
