HOME NURSING

Templeglantine Red Cross

At an important meeting of the Templeglantine Red Cross Branch, held at Moloney's Hall, Rev. J. Kelly, P.P., presided. Amongst the large attendance were:—Rev. Hubert Fee, C.C., hon. sec., I.R.C.S.; Very Rev. J. Casey, D.D., Ashford; Rev. D. Crowley, C.C., Tournafulla; Mr. M. J. Reardon, Co. Divisional Officer; Capt. Creedon, Cork; Comdt. Barry, I.R.C.; Miss Moroney, Co. Assistant Secretary, Limerick; Dr. E. Harnett, Dr. W. O'Connor, Mr. D. F. Murphy, Abbeyfeale, and Mr. M. Dillane, N.T.

Rev. H. Fee, C.C., read a report of the position of the Branch and its working, which showed a large increase in membership and very satisfactory progress since last year. That evening they had for presentation 38 certificates for Home Nursing, the recipients having been trained by Dr. E. Harnett and examined by Dr. Wm. O'Connor, of Abbeyfeale, to whose efficient services the Branch was deeply indebted.

A NECESSARY EDUCATION.

The Rev. Chairman addressed those present first in Irish, and continuing in English said he was glad such an occasion had arisen for the presentation of so many home nursing certificates amongst the girls of the parish. Such an education was very necessary, for knowledge as well as love always contributed towards a happy home. He knew many of the ladies present would like to have one of their own, and the sooner the better (laughter). Men had their own work to do on the farms, but the home duties devolved on the women, and the knowledge to do them was something to be proud of. In the old days of the crowbar and evictions it was the law of the land that the fire in the home should be extinguished, for as long as a spark remained the woman of the house would cling to the hearth and the fire.

Mr. M. J. Reardon, Co. Divisional Officer, said that in his experience West Limerick was better in divisional work than East Limerick. He congratulated the members who had qualified for certificates that night. In time the whole organisation would be up to the best in the county. He would say the one man responsible for the success of the Branch was their wonderful organising secretary, the Rev. Father Fee, C.C. (applause). Then the people of Ireland owed a debt of gratitude to the medical profession that never could be repaid. There they had Dr. Harnett and Dr. O'Connor of Abbeyfeale coming over there at considerable inconvenience and conducting lectures and examinations. The Branch owed much to their unselfish services (applause). He would make the following appointments, in addition to the Company's Officers—Mr. Con Carmody, Bearna; Sergeants, Mr. Maurice Sheehan and Mr. Con Sullivan; corporals, Mr. E. Martin Bearna; Mr. Patrick Sheehan, Devon Road; Mr. James M. Kelly, Sugarhill.

Captain Creedon, Cork, said he would like to pay a special tribute to Templeglantine, as he had no doubt it provided an example of zealous work that might well be followed by other county areas. If it were not for the work of the Red Cross, with such organisers as Dr. Harnett, Dr. O'Connor, and Father Fee, the Army would find it impossible to carry on at all.

PRESENTATIONS.

The Rev. Chairman, having presented the ladies with 38 certificates for home nursing, said he had also great pleasure in presenting Dr. Harnett with a handsome clock and Dr. O'Connor with a silver butter dish.

Dr. Harnett returned thanks to the ladies for their kind presentation, to their popular pastor, Father Kelly, whose political and patriotic record was well known, and to Father Fee, whose organising of the classes was so thorough and effective, and whose control and management of them was so characteristic of Percival Graves' "Father O'Flynn."

The prizes of the raffle went as follows:—Denis King (1st, £1); Mrs. James King, Templeglantine (2nd, bottle of J.J.); Tim Downey, Abbeyfeale (3rd, 10/-).

Rev. Father Fee thanked all who attended, and hoped that each would have an enjoyable evening in peaceful and homely Templeglantine. God grant they would always receive them in peace. They should, however, realise that though things were peaceful that evening, tomorrow morning they may have war. Modern warfare brought the civilian to the front line. Ireland is organised should the dread necessity for their help be wanted. To the humanitarian workers he would say, "you can be proud of your work, and Limerick can be justly proud of you." To the young men still outside the ranks, he would say, "Join up now; next month may be too late for you."

RECIPIENT OF CERTIFICATES

The following are the names of those who received the certificates:—Misses K. Ahern, E. Brosnan, M. Cahill, K. Carmody, B. Collins, J. Daly, B. Flynn, Mrs. M. Dillane, N.T.; M. Fitzgerald, N.T.; M. Harnett, M. Horan, Mrs. Ingram, M. Kelly, C. King, I. King, N. Lane, B. Leahy, M. Murphy, B. Moloney, D. Dowling, N. McNamara, B. O'Connor, M. O'Connor, B. O'Donnell, C. O' Donnell, E. O'Donnell, N. and B. Quirke, B. Roche, N.T.; M. Roche, E. Sheehan, Joan Sheehan, Julia Sheehan, L. Sheehan, M. I. Sheehan, E. Walsh, C. and N. Woulfe.

Miss Mary Fitzgerald, N.T., Devon House, was appointed leader of the home nurses, and supervised, with the Misses Sheehan, the very choice supper to which the visitors were treated.

Father Fee, C.C., thanked Mr. Moloney for lending the Hall and his orchestra for the evening.

COULD NOT FACE Makeshift Meals

A Soldier's Gratitude to "Wonderful Tablets"

Writing from his post at a coastal battery "Somewhere in England," this soldier tells of his sufferings from gastritis, and of the wonderful relief he obtained:—

"I suffer from bad gastric trouble. In this branch of the service we are constantly on a 24-hour duty, and our meals are of a makeshift nature. Consequently, days come when even the smell of food turns one, but I go to my bag and take out the 'Magic' Box,' suck two Rennies, and I can then sit down and eat anything. I wish someone had told me of your wonderful tablets years ago. They soothe and heal my stomach in a few hours."—J. J.

The effect of Rennies is so wonderful because they contain 15 separate ingredients, comprising antacids to neutralise acidity, absorbents to reduce stomach gas, and digestive ferments which actively aid digestion. Rennies dissolve in the mouth. They become active at once, because they reach your stomach full strength—not weakened with water.

All Chemists sell Rennies: 7d. and 2/- pkt.

GAELS AND GAMES

(By THOMOND).

Ballingarry—Reply.

I am so rarely catechised over my Notes that I take the earliest opportunity of attempting to remove a false impression on my readers caused by the tactics of the Ballingarry trio on last week's "Leader." They quoted only a part of the context which touched their dignity. They left out the opening words, "We can understand . . ." Now, the inclusion of these three words in the objectionable paragraph would put quite a different meaning on their quotation. I never stated, as they unjustly represented, that "the Rathkeale hurlers helped Ballingarry, perhaps."

Quite Different.

Expressing the understanding that such an arrangement may, perhaps, have occurred is quite different to stating that it did occur. My innocent statement as to a selection 31 years ago need not cause such a furore. No alone in our county and city, but all over the country, poaching of players has been indulged in, and even if Ballingarry was painted with that brush they would be only one case of many. I merely stated that we could understand that, perhaps, Oola might have got help from their neighbours and similarly Ballingarry, and when penning such a mere assumption it was not for the purpose of taking from the champion-hip honours of either Oola or Ballingarry. I hope this explanation will calm down the ruffled feelings of the Ballingarry officials of long ago. The best of clerks make mistakes and infallibility is certainly not claimed by "Thomond."

Building Up.

Is it at all possible to get another Scanlan in our city and county, another "goalie" able to accomplish anything near his great achievements? The man between the sticks has most to do to keep up the morale of a team. "With half a team and Scanlan behind you," said Bobby McConkey, "you could win a game." There is a lesson to be learned from this experienced opinion

Paddy's Advice.

When Paddy was in the city some days before the late Cork match, he advised to get a young not-minder and not take Dr. Jim McCarthy off the back. His judgment was correct as the doctor would have strengthened the back line against the attacks of Quirke, Beckett and Condon. Now, our readers in the city and different sides of the county ought make it a special study to get us the right man to hold the fort for dear old Limerick.

South Leaders.

Gaels in the South area, led by Mr. Johnny Guerin, have arranged a league programme. There is some promising material there, so with Hospital in the front, let us hope for some county players.

West Grouping.

The grouping of teams in the West is a step in the right direction. Players get out of the club groove and thus advance towards selection for the county.

The City and East.

An effort should be made to reorganise the City Board. Undoubtedly, it did great work to advance and extend our games, where there are so many other attractions. It is the men on the spot, in the streets and avenues of any city who can best forward any movement for our young citizens. They are closest in touch and have best acquaintance with the difficulties to be surmounted, as well as leading knowledge of the financial and social means of advancing the cause. Like the West and South, let us hope the City and East will organise some league games and group systems during the close season for 1943.

Minor Semi-Final.

Before a fairly representative crowd of spectators at Ballyneety on Sunday, Bruff defeated Ahane in the County Minor Hurling Championship Semi-Final on the score of 2-7 to 1-1. The game was, generally speaking, most exciting and provided first-class entertainment for those who attended. Both combinations gave a grand display of hurling and acquitted themselves in a manner that would have done credit to far more experienced exponents.

Deeply Regretted.

The unexpected demise on Saturday of Mr. Pat Sadlier, Imperial Hotel, Catherine Street, Limerick, threw a gloom over the city. Not alone in the city of his adoption but all over the country, and especially in G.A.A. circles, his sudden passing away has caused deep and painful regret. Death always brings its train of sorrow, which is made much more poignant in the case of a fine man in his prime suddenly called to his reward. To his sorrowing wife and family Limerick Gaeldom in general will extend most sincere sympathy on the death of one who rendered so many services to the Gaelic cause.

ARMS USELESS ON A WET DAY

Rheumatism Made Work a Torture

But Kruschen Put Him Right

Here is a remarkable instance of the manner in which damp weather can affect the joints of one who is subject to rheumatism.

"I had been suffering from rheumatism very badly," a man writes, "and had had such pains in my joints that I could hardly bear it. It used to be terrible on a wet day. I did not know how to use my arms, and when I was at work it was real torture. I tried two different remedies for rheumatism, but I was still as bad after the treatment.

"Then I was told to try Kruschen Salts, and after using one jar I found relief. So, of course, I have kept on with it, and am now thoroughly better and have never felt so fit for years. I used to feel so miserable and sluggish, but now it is a pleasure to be able to work, instead of a dread."—S.B.

The system of the rheumatic subject produces excess uric acid. If you could see the knife-edged crystals of uric acid under the microscope, you would readily understand why they cause those cutting pains. Kruschen dissolves those crystals and expels them from the body. Moreover, it keeps your system so clean and serene that uric acid crystals cannot accumulate again.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable of all Chemists. Price, 1/9 per bottle

NEW CONDITIONS

Site For Public Buildings

At the meeting of the Limerick County Council on Saturday, Mr. J. W. Canty, Chairman, presiding,

Mr. J. McCormack inquired what progress, if any, had been made with regard to the proposal of the Council to purchase three and a half acres of the land of Strand House, to be used as a site for the proposed new county and city offices.

The Chairman said that a conference had been held that morning between representatives of the County Council and Corporation regarding certain new conditions introducted by the vendor, Mr. O'Mara. The County Council was represented by the Manager (Mr. Meghen), the Co. Surveyor (Mr. Ryan) and himself. The Corporation was represented by the Mayor (Ald. O'Malley) and the City Manager (Mr. J. J. Berkery). The Law Agent to the County Council (Mr. R. G. O'Sullivan, solicitor) submitted the conditions of sale as received from Mr. O'Mara's solicitors. The conference had these conditions under consideration, and it was found that they were unacceptable in some respects. The County Surveyor was directed to interview Mr. O'Mara again for the purpose of having the position clarified.

Mr. McCormack—The site has not been acquired yet?

Chairman—No, as Mr. O'Mara has introduced certain new conditions into the terms of purchase. Perhaps we will have something definite for our next meeting.

The matter was not further discussed.

DRAINAGE RATE

Collection Suspended

Pending High Court proceedings regarding the fixing of the final award in respect of certain drainage schemes, rates on these will not be collected. A statement to this effect was made by the County Manager (Mr. P. J. Meghen, B.E.), at the meeting of the Co. Council on Saturday, Mr. J. W. Canty, chairman, presiding.

The Manager read the following report:—"Since the last meeting I have spent considerable time investigating the position of the Co. Council with regard to two drainage schemes, i.e., the Mulkear and Cappamore scheme and the Maigue and Loobagh scheme. You will understand that as these schemes are the subject of legal proceedings instituted by the Co. Council I do not propose to enter into any detail concerning the case that is being put forward.

"I wish to report, however, that Mr. O'Sullivan, your solicitor, and myself discussed the position with Mr. Lavery, S.C., at Ennis, and following that, I discussed the engineering aspects of the scheme with Mr. N. O'Dwyer, Consulting Engineer, and the Co. Surveyor. As a result of these discussions certain legal steps have been taken to bring the proceedings into line with recent developments. The Co. Surveyor is arranging for a detailed examination of the present position of the works, and Mr. O'Dwyer proposes to make a full inspection next week so as to be clear on the whole matter.

"I feel, however, that to safeguard the Council's position it will be necessary to postpone the collection of the drainage rate levied in the current year on the Maigue and Loobagh Drainage District. Accordingly, I have instructed the rate collectors to amend the demand notes and collect the general rate for that area. I believe that this step will meet the wishes of the Council and that the whole matter can be reviewed at the end of the present legal proceedings."

DRAINAGE RATE.

Proceeding, the Manager said that when the drainage question was raised at the last meeting the matter that seemed to concern members most was that the collection of the drainage rate in respect of the Loobagh scheme be deferred and that the ordinary poor rate be collected independently. He had instructed the collectors to postpone the collection of the drainage rate until such time as the position had been clarified. He was sure his decision in that matter would meet with the wishes of the Council. He did not wish for the moment to go further into the question of the drainage schemes in view of pending legal proceedings. When he was in a position to do so he would furnish a detailed report to the Council.

Chairman—I'm sure the Council will regard the Manager's report as very satisfactory. It was Mr. Clery raised this question the last day.

Mr. Clery—I was interested in the Loobagh scheme and I felt that the riparian owners could not meet the increased levy. The Manager's decision is very satisfactory.

Mr. McCormack proposed and Mr. Power seconded that the Manager's report be approved.

The Chairman declared this proposition passed unanimously.
