This rock, which is limestone, is about 2 chains long, 1 chain broad, and in height about 12 feet. It got its name, it is said, because fierce, savage animals, such as wolves, wild cats, &c., formerly lurked about it and caused the natives to dread passing by it

Kiltteely, Village of -- Local 16

See name of parish. J. O'D.

Kiltteely Village -- J. O'D.

This village contains about 40 houses, the chief part mudwall, and none two story high except the National School, which was built in 1834 at the expense of £170 by the parishioners. Its daily number of pupils vary according to the vicissitudes of the year from 120 to 40 boys per day and from 80 to 30 girls. The Master of the boys receives about 20 per annum, of which £8 is paid by the Board of Education and the remainder by the scholars. The Mistress of the girls is paid about £12, including £8 from the Board. In this village are 4 licensed public houses, six houses with petty groceries, a police barrack, and a Roman Catholic Chapel built in 1800 at the expense of £600 contributed by the parishioners. The Chapel is in the form of a cross, and is capable of containing about 700 persons. There is one fair per year here, with a market one day previous to the fair.
