	-- Presentment Book 1834
	-- Revd. J. Hewitt, P.P.
Ula	-- Civil Survey 1654-56
Owla	-- Acts of Settlement &c.

Situated about 12 miles S.E. of the City of Limerick. It is bounded on the E. and S. by the County of Tipperary; N. by the parish of Doon; and W. by the phs. of Tuoghcluggin and Templebredon.

This parish is about 4 miles long and nearly 3 miles broad. It is well convenienced with an excellent line of road leading from Limerick to Tipperary through its centre, besides another crossing this nearly at right angles in the centre and leading from Cappamore to Pallas Grean &c. It contains 43 townlands, 36 of which are very level, and the remainder, including Oola Hills, provide excellent pasture lands. It is all arable, and fuel is consequently the scarcest accomodation.

Oola (Village of) -- Inhabitants 47

See parish name.

Situated on the union of the tds. of Moanoola, the Glebe of Kyleneagoneeny and Oola Hills West, and on the road from Limerick to Tipperary.

This village contains about 60 houses, all of low structure and chiefly mud. Two of them are licensed public houses and six with groceries. A little to the west of the village is a police barrack. The R. C. Chapel is the principal building. It was erected in 1838 and in 9 months at the expense of £1,200, all contributed by the parishioners, besides the intended expenditure of £500 more to finish it. It is a handsome, plain building, of an oblong form, the walls exceeding 30 ft. in height. It is said to be able to accomodate 2,000 persons with ease.

Castle Lloyd -- Inhabitants 48
-- J. O'D.

Situated in the E. part of the td. of same name.

This castle, which was built by the Lloyds some time before 1800, is now (1840) in a neglected and decayed state by reason of the death of the Captain this year; but Thos. Lloyd, Esq., the present heir, intends to repair it. The body of the house is 4 story high, and about 200 feet west of it, in line with the N. side which is the front, is a tower about 50 ft. high, between which and the E. end forms the kitchen, &c. The house has several minor pillars on the front, etc.

Rathaniska -- J. O'D.

The Watery Fort -- Inhabitants

Situated in the N. corner of the td. of Ballyshoneen.

This fort, which is circular, is about 2 chains in diameter, and is 2 ft. higher than the surface. It is composed of earth and is placed in a low flat meadow, generally wet, from which circumstance it was denominated.

The Pipers Garden -- Inhabitants 3

-- J. O'D.

Situated in the S.W. corner of the td. of Cluggin (Tuoghcluggin Ph.) and about 2 chains S. of the road from Limerick to Tipperary.

It is denominated from a piper, who possessed it heretofore. It contains about half an acre and is now cultivated.

Thobar Na Fanogae -- Inhabitants 4

Tobar na Fionnóige, well of the royston-crow.

Tcbernafinoga -- J. O'D.

Situated in the extreme south point of the td. of Oola Hills East, on the boundary between same and Shanaclogh West, and attached to the N. side of the road from Limerick to Tipperary.

Thobar na Fancue (contd.)

This well, which is pure spring water, sends forth a small stream, which runs through the village of Oola, from thence flows through the parish, and falls into the Dead River. It received its name from a fionnóg or royston-crow, which generally perched near it.

Thobar na Goppull -- Inhabitants 5

Tobar Chathaláin, Cathalan's well. J. O'D.

Situated in the S.E. corner of Ballyvalode td., and within one chain of the east boundary.

A spring well about 3 ft. wide. It is good water, and is placed in a green field.

Lady's Well -- Inhabitants 7
-- J. O'D.

Tobar Mhuire, the Virgin Mary's well.

Situated in the S.W. corner of Ballylahiff td., and about 30 ft. N. of the south boundary.

"Lady's Well", or "Thobar Mhuirra", is 2 ft. in diameter and 3 ft. deep. It is an excellent spring, from which runs a rapid rivulet; and beside it is a decayed old trunk of an ash tree. As this well is dedicated to the Virgin Mary, devotions are particularly performed at it on the anniversary of her Assumption, the 15th August, and patterns were held at it until about 1812.

- Thobar Oen Iuan -- Inhabitants 8
- Tobar Anlusin, Hanlon's well.
- Toberanluan -- J. O'D.
- Situated in the S. part of the td. of Bohernagrada, and about 12 chains N. of the road from Pallas to Oola.

- Cross Cottage -- Inhabitants 9
-- J. O'D.
- Situated in the N. part of the td. of Knockballyfookeen, about 5 chains N. of the road from Limerick to Tipperary.
- This cottage was built about 1780 for about £150. It is a thatched house, the property of Mr. Thos. Ryan.
- Thobar na Rhoive -- Inhabitants 10
- Tobar na Róimhe, the well of Rome.
- Tobarnarova -- J. O'D.
Rome Well (Eng.) -- Inhabitants
- Situated in the centre of the E. part of the td. of Oola Hills East, and a little N. of Oola Castle.
- This little well, which is regarded as sacred by the peasantry, is about 18 inches deep, 12 inches wide at its mouth, and 24 inches wide at the bottom. It is curiously formed by nature in a solid rock, having always a depth of 6 inches of water in it, and it is said that neither the greatest drought nor the heaviest rainfall decreases or fills it. Its formation, as told by the natives, is as follows:
- The family of Oola Castle lacked water and appealed to the Pope, who consecrated a bottle of water for them. The property of this water was that, when poured on the spot where is now the well, a well of excellent water appeared, rendering enough at all times, though not supplied from any other source. The people also affirm that the water of this well cannot be made to boil by any heat.
