Mr. Adderly reported from the Committee the heads of a bill to enact English sta: tes, where the kingdom of Ireland and reat Britain enjoyed equal benefit and equal ftraints.

Mr. Ogle said, he accorded in every sense ith thinking the tendency of the bill adantageous to this kingdom.

Mr. Conolly declared he had for a series of years resisted a declaration of rights, but he now acknowledged himself on the same sentiments with the gentlemen who had spoke last.

Mr. Hartley opposed that clause in the heads, which was absolutely calculated to overturn a very material part of the bankrupt law. He should therefore, on that account, oppose that clause of the bill which seemed to affect any part of the bankrupt act.

He was replied to by Mr. Dawson, who said he had guarded against any advantages which could be taken in the framing of the bill.

He was seconded in this by Mr. Forteseue and Mr. Gamble, who expatiated upon the cruelty of keeping those in actual custody from the benefits of their liberty and the enjoyment of industry and society.

It was agreed that the bill should be read through, and when they came to the blank for ascertaining a day from which the benefit of the act should commence, after some conversation the 25th of March, 1782. was agreed on for those who had since that time remained in custody, without being any ways enlarged by the gaolers

The heads being gone through, Mr. Annesley moved, that the chairman should leave the chair, whereupon a division ensued, and there appeared for the motion.

The following Resolutions were unanimously agreed to:

Resolved, That we do entirely approve of, and most willingly accede to, the Spirited and Patriotic Resolutions and Address of the ULSTER VOLUNTEERS, represented by their Delegates, who met at Dungannon on the 15th of last Month; and that we will to the utmost of our abilities, co operate with them, and all other Friends to the Freedom, Prosperity, and Independence of Ireland, in every Legal and Constitutional Mode of obtaining speedy and effectual Redress of the several Grievances enumerated in the Resolutions of the said Delegates.

Resolved, That as FREEMEN, CITIZENS, and VOLUNTEERS, we are firmly and unalterably determined, that we will, individually, and collectively, exert our most strenuous, and unremitting endeavours, towards the establishment and maintenance of all the just Rights and Priveleges of our Country; that we will not submit to any violation of, or encroachment on them, by any usurped authority whatsoever, and that we are ready, with our Lives and Fortunes, to support every Measure that may tend to effectuate this great and necessary purpose, from which no consideration shall induce us to swerve.

Resolved, That as it is our duty, so it is our determination, to give every possible encouragement to the Manufactures of Ireland and we do recommend this as a proper object of the consideration and adoption of every Patriotic Irishman in general, and of our brother Volunteers in particular, as the most likely means of alleviating the present, and of obviating the future distresses of our Manufactures, and of compensating, in some measure, to Ireland for the specious, but hitherto ideal, and delusive advantages of a free Trade.

Resolved, That we will not on any future Election, by our suffrages, interest, or otherwise, support any known Placeman, Pensioner or any Man who[se] Parliamentary conduct, has been inimical to his Country, or any Candidate who will not secure his Duty to us, by entering into the most solemn Engagement to obey the Instructions of his Constituents, a Security which experience has proved to be indispensibly necessary

Resolved, That the Chairman and Secretary do sign and transmit these Resolutions to the Secretary of the ULSTER VOLUNTEERS: and that they be published in the Dublin and Cork Evening Posts, the Munster Journal, and Limerick Chronicle

Resolved, That two Delegates from each Corps in the County and City of Limerick, be and are hereby requested to meet two Delegates from this Corps on the 20th Day of March Inst. at the Exchange Limerick, at Twelve o'Clock at Noon, to consider of the propriety or inexpediency of the election of Officers of any Rank whatever for a longer term than six Months, as it appears to us that the creation of Officers for Life is inconsistent with the freedom and spirit of the Volunteer Cause, and at the same time derogatory to the characters of such Officers who are thereby deprived of the distinguished honour of being rechosen on succeeding Elections.

EDWARD CROKER, Major.

The Chairman having quitted the Chair,
