GENTLEMEN, ...
 ... THE too generous warmth of exultation, in ...
 ... the Address, your worthy Foreman has profes- ...
 ... sed me, for an attempt at a more particu- ...

 ... was but a Debt to the Public, and that I am ...
 ... extremely happy if I have availed myself of ...
 ... the Opportunity to Discharge it,—as to ...
 ... other matters you are pleased to take notice of, ...
 ... I cannot appropriate to myself more, than my ...
 ... share, and it may be not unseasonable to remind ...
 ... you that "the safety of individuals" is most ef- ...
 ... fectually secured by that alacrity and firmness with ...
 ... which every good Citizen, in his peculiar de- ...
 ... partment assits in supporting the Police of the ...
 ... City; you Gentlemen, cannot but have expe- ...
 ... rienced that most, if not all of you have ...
 ... given repeated proofs of it, and persevere in ...
 ... as to "the relief of the Poor" it must not be ...
 ... forgotten, that very many of this City with a ...
 ... very few Gentlemen of the Country contri- ...
 ... buted cheerfully and liberally to the importa- ...
 ... tion of Corn, which most materially alleviated ...
 ... the misery of the Poor, and protected in some ...
 ... measure the public charge from gross frauds, ...
 ... and probably from the consequence of Rapine. ...
 ... I shall only add, that the Extraordinary and ...
 ... voluntary effusions of affection I have been ...
 ... lately honour'd with, from those who cannot be ...
 ... supposed to be actuated by any but the most ...
 ... generous motives, will leave an indelible im- ...
