

Delegates from the several Volunteer Corps that are to be reviewed at Dublin, on Monday the 6th of June next, unanimously elected Earl Charlemont Reviewing-General, and Major Gudgeon Exercising-Officer. They also unanimously agreed upon a second review to be at the Curragh, in compliment to his Grace the Duke of Leinster, whom they intend as their Reviewing-General there.

Wednesday morning, between three and four o'clock, two villains attempted breaking into the house of Mr. John Sutherland, steward to General Sandford, at Loxlip Castle, and succeeded so far as to open the shutters, and break the fast of the parlour window; the noise alarmed the servant maid, who ran into the room, which being observed by one of them, who had half his body through the fast he threw a bar of iron at her, which fortunately missed; the courageous girl then ran to the window, and with the shutters forced the villain out, when his companion threw a glass bottle at her, which cut her desperately in the breast, at the same time snatching at a silver candlestick she held in her hand, but missed it; the noise by this time alarmed the family, and the servant, with a resolution that does honor to her sex, kept the window fast till they came to her assistance, when the villains were obliged to decamp without their booty. It is supposed there were more in company; and the servant says she can swear to the one that threw the bottle at her.

MARRIED. At Donmore, Queen's county, Samuel Jacob, Esq; to Miss Staples, daughter of Sir Robert Staples, Bart.

DIED. Mr. George Farrén, Attorney, son to Mr. Charles Farrán, Deputy Clerk of the Peace.—In Pill-lane, the wife of Mr. Jacob Hardy.

Monaghan, Jan. 21. On the 11th instant was escorted into Bailieborow, by a number of the Volunteers, a cannon, a 20 pounder, for the use of the corps; it was purchased in Dublin by a private, (James Reilly, Mathematician,) which shews a spirit and attachment to the cause, not to be equalled by any within our knowledge.

Galway, Jan. 24. Last Friday was committed to the County Gaol, by Jonathan Cope, Esq; Thomas Cusack, and Patrick Creanan, charged upon oath with being seen in the streets at Ballinasloe, on Thursday night the 7th of October last, about eight o'clock, in company with the late Patrick Bellew, Esq; being the same night the said Bellew was murdered.

Clonmel, Jan. 27. Last Friday night, two fellows armed went to the house of Mr. Ryan, near Pallas Grane, and demanded liquor, Mr. Ryan told them he had none, they then shot him, of which he instantly died.—Note, this is the third audacious unprovoked murder committed in that neighbourhood within these few months.

Committed to jail the 25th inst. by John Power, Esq; Wm. Ryan, otherwise Stephen, Richard Maunsell, and Mathew Ryan, otherwise Matta, all of Tipperary, charged on oath with having on the night of the 21st inst. burglariously broke open the dwelling house of Bryan Kearden; they are also charged with having on the night of the 16th of November last, burglariously broke open the stable door of Richard Butler, of Keylong, Esq; and feloniously stealing thereout two horses, value thirty pounds, sterling, the property of the said Richard Butler, Esq. A party of the Tipperary Volunteers, under the command of Lieutenant Evans, escorted the above prisoners to town, and lodged them in jail.

Died. Yesterday, the wife of Mr. John Danniell, shoemaker, of this town.

Kilkenny, Jan. 26. On Thursday evening, John Kwating, blacksmith, and Dan. Lynch, servant, both of Callan, stopped a traveller named Nicholas Power, on the high road between Callan and Mullinahow, and robbed him of 12s. 11d. a pair of stockings, and a stock buckle; they were apprehended next day, and examinations sworn against them before Sam. Ladyman, Esq; by whom they were committed to our county Gaol, under an escort of the Royal Irish Dragoons.

Waterford, Jan. 25. On Friday last Samuel Curtis, John Crawley, Richard Curtis, James Curtis, Thomas Samuel Roberts, William Noble, William Raycroft, John Taylor, James Dodd, John Murray, George Wilson, and James West, were severally admitted and sworn into privilege freedom and office of freemen of this city, by William Newport, Esq; mayor, by virtue of twelve peremptory mandamus's which issued out of his Majesty's court of King's-bench for that purpose.

Cork, Jan. 27. Committed to County Gaol, the 3d. inst. by Sam. Jervois, John Hymud, for horse-stealing;—the 12th by Tho. Owgan, Esq; John Sullivan, for being concerned in the murder of John Murphy;—the 13th by Roger Connor, Esq; John Post and Sarah Post, for pig-stealing;—the 14th by the Rev. Thomas Bushe, Elizabeth Nagle, Mich. Dooly and Mich. Horan, the two former charged with various offences, and the latter with pig-stealing;—the 19th by Tho. Butler, Esq; John Haly, Patrick and Charles Coffee, for cow-stealing;—the 23d by John Warren, Esq; perpetrated in the neighbourhood of Dromore.—One Thomas Mackee having lost a sheep, procured a warrant of search, and went in company with five or six other persons in hopes of discovering how that part of his property was made away with, after diligent search in many houses, &c. which proved abortive, they came to the house of one Bryen O'Bryen, in a wall convenient to which they found the head of a sheep, to which one Patrick Meer, then present, has positively sworn to be that of the sheep stolen from Mackee, and of which they were in quest; from this and other concurring circumstances, informations of felony were lodged against O'Bryen.—About ten days ago, a number of desperadoes, among whom were three of O'Bryen's brothers, came armed to the Cabin of Meer, which they entered at day-light, and pulling the object of their cruelty to some distance from his his hut, used him in a manner too shocking to relate, for after many acts of unheard of cruelty they cut off one of his ears; but, we hope, that the savages who could be guilty of such barbarity, will not be suffered to escape with impunity.

Last Wednesday was Married, Charles Mahon, Esq; Counsellor at Law, to Miss Crowe, daughter of Thos. Crowe, Esq; a young Lady whose mental qualifications, and sweetness of disposition cannot fail rendering the state into which she has entered a scene of conjugal bliss.

LIMERICK.
