

THIS DAY ARRIVED ONE PACKET.
LONDON, Sept. 13.

BY the latest accounts from India we are informed that the detachment of the army sent from Bengal to Madras, during the war, to re-inforce the army there, had returned to Calcutta in the beginning of February by land, after an extraordinary march of upwards of two thousand miles, through Golconda, Oriza, and other kingdoms on the west side of the Bay of Bengal:—This route was preferred to the transporting of them by sea, in compliance with the prejudice of the seapoys who have a superstitious aversion to the sea. This little army was conducted by Colonel Pearce, and Lieut. Colonels Edmonstone and Blane, who had also distinguished themselves by their spirited conduct in the war.

Further account of the melancholy affair mentioned in our last paper:

Friday morning, about ten o'clock, a gentleman in a hackney-coach came to the shop of Mr. Richards, a gun-maker, in the Strand, and having purchased a pair of pistols, he loaded one of them, and went into the parlour with it. This alarming the family, Mr. Richards followed him, remonstrated on the impropriety of trying the pistols there, and begged he would go below stairs, where there was a place for that purpose. The gentleman, with some agitation, said there was no ball in it; but Mr. Richards insisted on his not firing, and took hold of his arm to prevent him. Upon this they both returned into the shop, and while Mr. Richards turned round to shut the parlour-door, the unfortunate man applied the pistol to his mouth, fired it, and instantly fell. Mr. Thompson, the surgeon, was immediately called, who found him quite dead, the ball having penetrated the brain. His pockets were then searched, but there was nothing found that could lead to a discovery of his name. A servant, however, passing and seeing a crowd, enquired what was the matter; being informed that a gentleman had shot himself, he exclaimed, "Good God, it is my master!" and upon seeing the body, his fears were confirmed. The unhappy man proves to be Felton Lionel Hervey, Esq; of Lower Grosvenor-street, nephew to the Earl of Bristol. He was formerly a Captain in the horse-grenadier guards, but had retired for some time. He had been melancholy for several days, and on his going out in the morning, his servant followed him, and saw him take a coach in Bond-street. On his offering to get up behind, his master told him in a peremptory tone to go home, saying he was going to call on his attorney, and ordered the coachman to drive as fast as he could to Mr. Richards's shop in the Strand, where he took the opportunity of putting an end to his life.

Mr. Hervey was appointed with his father joint-remembrancer of the Exchequer—a very lucrative place, which is now vacant, and which frequently Mr. Pitt will dispose of for the benefit of the revenue, as he did of the Clerkship of the Peace, by giving it to some other

Tuesday morning as Lord Sudley was returning from town to Earl Arran's in the Phoenix Park, between one and two o'clock, he was stopped between the Park Gate and the late Bishop of Limerick's house, by four men well mounted, and robbed of his Watch and Purse, containing some money, and a few foreign gold coins. When the carriage arrived very near home, it was overturned, and Lady Ann Hatton who was with his Lordship, received a wound in the forehead from the broken glass.

The robbery of Lord Sudley in the Park, was as extraordinary as unprecedented.—The gates of the Park are regularly shut at a certain hour.—The carriage was stopped between one and two o'clock in the morning, by four men excellently mounted—they all wore long cloaks, and were armed with pistols and sabres—a person on the coach-box snapped a blunderbuss at them, and in return they cut at him with their sabres, which he happily avoided.—The coachman was so terrified, that after they finished their business, he mistook his way, and drove the carriage over a precipice—the carriage was totally demolished.—Lord Sudley got his wrist strained—Lady Hatton was not so fortunate, having her face dreadfully cut with some of the broken glass.—The coachman was also much bruised—yet the horses escaped almost without injury.

The patrol of horse who had escorted the Lord Lieutenant to the lodge in the Park, from the Archbishop of Dublin's, where he had that day dined, passed by a few minutes afterwards.

Saturday evening a fine child, about four years old, was suffocated in Meath-street, by drinking a glass of spirits, which his unthinking parents gave him by way of refreshment.

Last night the following most atrocious murder was perpetrated, and which indeed, for the honor of human nature, should ever rest in oblivion:—About 8 o'clock, James Ennis, a lad about 19 years of age, son to a barber who lives in Angel-alley, High-street, returning home somewhat intoxicated with liquor, and having some trifling dispute with his father, who was in his shirt, pulled out a razor, and gave him four deep wounds in the arms, thighs and body; on his mother's interfering, and endeavouring to protect the life of her aged husband, from the bloody and ferocious attack of her unnatural son, the induman villain, drawing a second razor, cut the arteries and sinews of her arm across, and still unlaid, wounded her in two other places; luckily she had sufficient strength and presence of mind left to alarm the neighbours, who arrived time enough to prevent the completion of his bloody purposes; but the helpless woman, from the extraordinary effusion of blood from her wounds, soon became motionless, having first made signs for a clergyman, who opportunely arrived some little time before she expired, which was in the most excruciating agony; and the ill doomed maimed survivor was sent to the infirmary, with small hopes of his recovery. On the alarm being given, the young diabolical monster attempted to escape, but fortunately without

12. Wind S. W. Sailed, Cunningham, Tyre, Glasgow, goods, as per invoice; Juno, White, Bristol, tallow, &c. Nancy, Hume, Liverpool, oats, &c. Bridget, Morris, do

13. Wind S. Arrived, Union, Hazard, Hamburgh, ballast; a brig name or master not known with wheat in bulk, not a mast standing, towed in by the Union—Sailed, Friendship, Jenkins, Dublin, flour.

LIMERICK.

A few days since, a number of persons, not less than thirty, who were returning to Bannagher and other parts of that neighbourhood from a hurling match, in crossing the Shannon on board a crazy old boat, were all lost except two men. It is supposed the great weight of so many people started some of the timbers, and in a scene of such melancholy confusion they drowned each other. One of the two persons saved has been out of his senses since the accident. Six of the bodies were next day taken up.

Died. Last Thursday evening, Miss Eliza Drury, of this City, Milliner and Haberdasher.—Her amiable qualities in private life gave a lustre to her unbounded Charity and Benevolence, in the exercise of which virtues without ostentation, she seemed to place her greatest happiness. She faithfully discharged all the relative duties of Daughter, Sister, Mistress, and Friend; and closed a life of Christian perfection with a becoming resignation. She was in short a bright pattern of Christian imitation.

PORT-NEWS. Sept. 16. Sailed the Delight, Price, Poole, Oats and Butter.—Arrived the Lark, Waters, Poole, ballast.—17 Sailed the Elizabeth and Catherine, Thompson, St. Ubes, butter.—The Concordia, Vibon, Arundel, ballast.—Arrived, the General Admiral, Ledberg, Christianlands, timber and deals.

Drawing will begin next Monday. Now is the Time.

The Drawing of the Irish State Lottery will commence in a few Days; such Persons as wish to be in Fortune's Way, are requested to lose no time, a few Shillings laid out in the Purchase of a Lottery Ticket, has made the Fortunes of many People in Ireland; the Adventures are sold at one Guinea and half a Guinea; also a Club of TEN whole Tickets, in which a few Subscribers are wanting for a whole or half Share; this is a prudent method of adventuring, for if the Subscribers do not get a twenty or ten thousand Pound Prize, they will get a great Part of their Money back.

MR. HILL has now Landing to him a Cargo of as Fine DEALS as ever came to this Port, and is amply supplied with every kind of necessary Timber and Deals for Building, which he is determined to Sell at a moderate Profit, for Ready Money.

He has also some Barrells of the Velvet Wheat for Seed, which is by much the best kind both for Produce and Whiteness of Flour of any in the Kingdom, and sells Two Shillings per Barrel higher than any other Wheat in Dublin.

LAMBERT DREW,
BEGS leave to inform the Publick, that his FLOUR, TANNED LEATHER, and RAPE OIL, continue to be Sold as usual, at his Shop, next House to Bow-lane, Limerick, by JOSEPH FITZPATRICK, who will make it his Study to give every Encouragement to those who are pleased to favor him with their Custom.
Sept. 12, 1785.

Elegant Unfurnished LODGINGS,
TO BE SET by JOHN SHAUGHNESSY, next Door to Counsellor Macnamara's Bow, in the English Town, who is as usual well Supplied with GROCERIES and GENUINE SPIRITS, of all Kinds, which he Sells at the most REDUCED PRICES.
Limerick, Sept. 12, 1785.

LIMERICK ANNUITY SOCIETY.
A GENERAL MEETING of this Society will be held at the Tholsel on Thursday the 29th Instant.
There are Seven Vacancies to be filled up, Candidates for which are to give in their Names to the Secretary.
Sept. 5, 1785. Signed by Order, A. WATSON, Sec.

THE several Creditors of TOBIAS and ELIAS HORAN, late of Newcastle, in the Liberties of Limerick, Gent. are required to meet JOHN BENN, Attorney, on the first day of October next, at the Widow HOLLAND's House Quay lane, Limerick, at the hour of Twelve o'clock, in the forenoon, in order that matters may be taken into Consideration to recover their respective Debts, Affecting the said Lands of Newcastle.
[4P] September 8, 1785.

M'KERN,
LINEN AND WOOLLEN DRAPER,
No. 26 IRISH-TOWN,
RESPECTFULLY informs his friends and the Publick, that he is just returned from DUBLIN, where he has laid in for Ready Money, an elegant Assortment of every article in his Line, which he flatters himself will please all who favour him with their Commands.
N. B. Said M'KERN, Sells on Commission, Tickets and Shares of Tickets in the present Irish State Lottery.
September 12, 1785.

DIOCESAN SCHOOL,
AT KILLALOE,
WILL be Opened for the Reception of Young Gentlemen, on Monday the 26th day of September next, by the Rev. JAMES MARTIN, A. M. who has engaged as an Assistant, a Gentleman of the University of Dublin, and assures the Public, the strictest Attention shall be paid to the Morals of such as are committed to his Care, as well as to their Improvement in Learning.
Boarders 20 Guineas per Annum, and Five Guineas Entrance. Day Scholars 4 Guineas per Annum; and One Guinea Entrance.
[8] Killaloe, Aug. 31, 1785.

IRISH STATE LOTTERY