that town about 50 years. Few, if any, possessed in a higher degree talents for relating a ludicrous story; in which he could exactly imitate the manners and dialects of every shire in England, Scotland, Wales, and Ireland; he had such a command of the muscles of his face, as to be able in a very extraordinary manner to caricature the features of a number of persons, however different in appearance and manners.—Saturday, in London, the Countess of Cork; her death was occasioned by a stroke of the palsy.

Cork, Dec. 15. It was a happy circumstance for the Proprietors of the New Sugar House in Belfast, to have been insured, which was entirely burnt and a loss of 5000l. readily paid them by the Insurers. When property, not hazardous, can be insured at so easy a rate as 2s. 6d. for 100l. what person would run so great a risque, for the loss of such a trifling expense.

Early on Tuesday morning, the Mill-house of Mr. Christopher Allen, brewer, was discovered to be on fire, which burnt with great rapidity until ten o'clock before the same was extinguished, which happily was not attended with that loss expected by the spectators.— The Concerns were not insured.

LIMERICK.

We hear that one of our eminent traders, intends removing to the Assembly Mall; which must be an advantage to that part of the city, we hope the time is not far distant, when the emancipated commerce of Ireland, will extend its benefits, when trade, the source of wealth, will flourish in every part of the kingdom.

Ye Rich, and ye Affluent, look down on the poor at this inauspicious season! Let your hearts overflow with the Milk of human kindness, for your fellow Creatures in distress, relieve them with your money, and with the fragments of your table, for with such doings God is well pleased.—Our Saviour himself hath declared, that whosoever relieves the least of his brethren, does him acceptable service; and where Job was afflicted with grievous misfortunes, he was comforted on recollecting that he delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherless, and him that hath none to help him, and that he brought down the blessings of him that was ready to perish, therefore the Lord blessed his latter days more than his first.

Last Tuesday, was committed to the City Gaal, by Sir Christopher Knight, Major, Margaret Ryan, charged with having in her possession a new cotton gown, being a part of the goods lately stolen out of the shop of Mr.
John Glanby, of Charleville.—Same day, to the County Gaol, by Walter Widenham, Esq; John Brazil, of Ballinahinch, in the County of Clare, charged with stealing nineteen sheep from Malachy Ryan, of Killywoylan, in this County, which said Brazil sold at the fair of Singland last Monday.

Last Saturday died at Newport, John Garter, aged 106. His retentive faculty was so good, and his recollection so perfect, that he could relate every anecdote, or occurrence he heard during his life, to the day of his death.

Last night one Maly, a rope-maker, and Keane, a mason, quarrelled near the market house, when Keane received a wound from a sword through the neck, and his life is despar-ed of. Maly was this morning committed to the city Gaol, by Alderman Maunsell.

Same night a young girl taking up water at the slip near the canal, was drowned; her body has not yet been found.

The MAYOR requests that the Inhabitants of the Englishtown, will be so good as to appoint Sweepers, as in the Irishtown, to sweep before their doors, as it is impossible for the Scavengers to remove the Dirt, if not collected for them.

The Deputy Weigh Master having informed the Mayor, that the undernamed Men were Lumpers and Forefallers at the Butter Weigh House, he had them Belled last Saturday, and he now gives this Public notice, that he will pay 5l. reward for each and every Person who shall be convicted of lopping or forefalling Butter, coming to or at the Weigh House for the time to come. And 10l. reward for every Person who shall be convicted of forefalling Wheat or Oats for foreign or home markets.—

HIBERNIAN BALLOON.

THE Proprietors of the Assembly Room have been kind enough to allow the Use of it, for the Exhibition of Mr. CROSBIE'S BALLOON, in order to Assist in raising a Fund for defraying the Expense of an Ascent which he Purposes shortly to make from this City: As Mr. CROSBIE would wish that the Gratification derived from this Novel Exhibition should extend as far as possible, he has fixed the Terms of Admission to Non-Subscribers at 1s. 1d. each, Hours of Admittance from ten in the Morning, till four each Day.

N. B. The Room will be Open To-morrow, the 20th Inst. and a few Succeeding Days, Sunday Excepted. Good Fires will be continually kept. Dec. 19, 1785.

JOHN BOLD, Apothecary,

IRISH-TOWN.

INFORMS his Friends and the Public, he has laid in a Fresh and Genuine Assortment of DRUGS, in the Shop where his Father formerly carried on the same Business, and hopes by Moderate Charges and Quality of his Medicines, to please all who favour him with their Commands:— Sensible how much the Credit of the Physician and Health of the Patient depend on the Care and Integrity of the Apothecary, BOLD is determined to be strictly attentive to the Composition and Choice of his Medicine, and as he has made the Business his particular Study, and served in the first Shops, will endeavour to give general Satisfaction. Dec. 19, 1785.
