ALC:

day evening informs us, that it was currently reported there, and generally believed, that the Earl of Salifbury would be thortly appointed Lord Lieurenant of this kingdom, in the Attorney General alfo with great humanity room of his grace the Duke of Rutland,

Should fuch an event take place, Lord Kilwarlin, who is brother-in-law to the Earl of Salifury, is to be appointed his principal fecretary, a circumstance which will add confiderably to the Hillfborough intereft.

Yefterday came on in the court of King's bench the trial of Thomas Heney, an outlaw, who had abfconded to elude public juffice, on went to a place called the Old Barrack, in a charge of being concerned fome years ago Cockpit-lane, in order to execute a warrant in the molt inhoman and wanton murder com- for an affault in which Mrs. Lyne was Plaintiff, mitted on Ambrole Power, Elq; (brother of iffued against Timothy Sullivan, Coal-porter; the Hon. Mr. Baron Power). The trial and when the women faw Sullivan they immediately enquiry for the verdict of the jury was, whe- ran at him and feized him by the hair, by ther Heney was the fame perfor that the out- which they held him, whill Barry, with a lawry was iffued againft; which being fully barbarity that would difgrace a favage, made proved by various evidences, the jury found | feveral flabs with a drawn beyonet at Sullivan, Heney GUILTY, but the Court did not pais one of which entering near the left break, any fentence on him, he having by law 4 days before final fentence can be awarded againit him, Fitzgerald, are as honourable to the adminifration of juffice among us, as the condemnation and punifhment of the late Lord Ferrers were deemed by foreigners to British government. In the fcale of found morals, the crimes of men the three were then trantmitted by faid Sharp elevated by flation and actifities are more henious and inexcutable in their nature, than those of their inferiors ; and the end of juit punishments, viz. the prevention of the lame offences. is more effectually answered by the rigorous infliction of them on fuch diftingathed offenders. The humanity and wildom of the Court were eminently difplayed on the late occafion No expression or mark of that releatment, which to enormous a crime might naturally have excited, occured; every thep was taken to bring the affailents of the pritoner to jultice, and the faireft attention was paid to every thing which he or his counfel could produce in his favour. This unfortunate and diffinguthed I wittim to offended jultice, will proclaim thro' the kingdom, that no opulence, talents, or inflarnce can protect a man who dates to violate the laws. The good citizen will, at the fame time, feel his love to his country encreated by reflecting on the equal distribution of justice among us ; the fecurity of the weakelt fubject against the most powerful; and the admirable provision by the TRIAL BY JURY for the protection of the innocent individual against even the collected vengeance of government itfelf. He will remember, according to an eminent foreigner, " that it can be faid of these kingdoms only, that NO MAN EVER MEETS THE MAR of whom he may lay-THAT MAN HAS A POWER TO DECIDE ON MY DEATH OR LIFE.

Though the Hervey family have long been remarked for a certain levity of conduct, yet there is no part of their character more maccountable than certain flathes of bravery and cowardice, which have at timet cievated an

A gentleman who left London but laft Thuri . had thought it necellary, without affigning any reason. But after his conviction he spoke in terms of high refpect of the gentlemen who formed the jury by whom he was tried. The gave Fitzgerald and his counfel every advantage and opportunity that they could poffibly wifh, and more than they could have reafonably expected.
