

...the bridge, or doing Barry any other injury than threats and declarations to be shortly even with him.

It was then publicly known that the White Boys were determined on Tuesday night last, to attack Kilbarry house. They to the number of upwards of 500, came on the road to Kilbarry, in the night of the 22d inst. firing shots, and sounding different horns, they broke open the house of a tenant of Mr. Barry's, at Kilbarry, and swore him on oath to declare if he knew that Mr. Barry was prepared for them,—the man confessed he did, and added they would soon know it themselves. They then proceeded towards Mr. Barry's house, but they were most spiritedly attacked on the road by William the younger, his brothers, and a few friends: the White Boys were soon routed, many of them desperately wounded, and one of their Captains, it is since known, had his shoulder and arm shattered to pieces; a horse has been found dead after them, they were pursued by Mr. Barry, but being then on foot, the White Boys got off. If many other Gentlemen would follow so meritorious an example, White Boys would not be so incorrigible or general.

On Sunday morning last, public notice was given near the Romish Chapel of Malinow, that the White-Boys of that Parish would appear, by order of Captain Right, early next day at Blarney, soon after which, notice was sent to the several Inhabitants of the town of Mallow, requiring their horses to be ready prepared at whatever hour of the night they should be demanded, and many of them were accordingly called for by the White Boys, and carried off early that night. About the hour of twelve, a number of them, supposed to be about one hundred, attacked the house of the Rev. William King, Rector of said Parish, and alarmed the family, rapping most violently at the hall-door, and announcing themselves White Boys, demanded Mr. King's horses to be instantly produced, or they would fire in at the windows and destroy the place, and one of them had the insolence to force into the house, and even into the bed-chamber where Mr. and Mrs. King lay, but on hearing the horses were ordered for his use, he retired, and they were accordingly given up and carried off. The whole town was in the utmost alarm all night, as successive parties passed through from different parts of the county to Blarney, in the neighbourhood of which we are informed, they assembled next morning to the amount of above 2500 men.

Belfast, June 27. On Saturday last, as one Armstrong, a farmer near Holywood, was drying a quantity of powder over the fire in a pot, by some accident it took fire and blew away part of the side wall and rigging of his house, by which his wife and a child were very much hurt, and other damage done.

Yesterday and this day, the 58th regiment marched into this town on their way from Scotland (from whence they arrived this week) to Downpatrick and Killough, where we understand they are to be stationed.

Waterford, June 27. Last Saturday, John Callaghan, alias Jack-a-boy, who has so frequently broken out of the gaols of Cork and Limerick, was, on Saturday last, thro' the activity of Mr. Wm. Courcy, gaoler, apprehended in Ballybricken, and lodged in the city gaol.

30] At a meeting of the corporation of this city, at the council chamber, yesterday, Samuel King, Esq; was elected Mayor; as were Thomas Backas and William Roche, Esqrs, Sheriffs, for the ensuing year, who gave an elegant entertainment on the occasion, at the new assembly rooms.

Last Sunday morning died, in Olive's lane, in an advanced age, Mr. James North.

Clonmel, June 29. Thomas Heany, one of A letter from a gentleman in London, to his friend in this city, mentions, that Laurence Kennedy, Comedian, formerly belonging to the Theatres of Smock Alley and Crow-street, labouring under some disorder of mind, cut his throat in Hyde-park, and afterwards jumped into the canal; a gentleman riding by at the time saved him for the moment and had him conducted to an Hospital, where he languished for a few days, and expired on Thursday last, the cause of this rash action is attributed to the indigence of his circumstances.

We hear that the gentleman now under sentence of death in Roscommon Gaol for a forcible possession, has got a respite till the 24th of next month.

Col. Burton Conyngham, with unabating zeal, now directs his efforts towards the extension of our North-West fisheries—an object of the highest national import; yet he almost stands alone in the conducting of this arduous enterprise. The South west part of the county Donegal, is a mere waste—not a pier—not a quay—not even a road for travellers to be found from Killybegs to the Rosses, a district of not less than 60 miles—the wretched beings who inhabit this wilderness, are almost a distinct race, who never mix in society, and dread even the appearance of strangers. Col. Conyngham is now employed in making good roads through this waste—fensible that the true means of either civilizing the inhabitants, or diffusing among them habits of industry and cultivation, must be effected by proper and useful communication, which will open a market for the products, and enable those who wish to embark in the Fisheries, from chusing the most proper situation.

By the present judicious new arrangement in the Post-offices there is no part of the kingdom that will not bear a reasonable contiguity to a post town, which will entirely do away the greatest inconvenience. To a kingdom rising in greatness this must be considered a valuable acquisition a free and speedy communication of intelligence being of the highest importance to trade, commerce, and in fact, every interest of the nation. Hence much praise is due to the Postmasters who instituted the present plan.

to the late Nicholas Weeks, of Brickfield, Esq;

††† IT having for some time past, been a matter of Public Notoriety, that the manner of enforcing the duty of Tythes, in some parts of the Province of Munster, hath become an object of disquietude and concern. I congratulate myself that hitherto no complaints have been made by any of the Inhabitants of the several parishes of Carcomahide, Casketown, Kilmeady, Clonilly, Kilmoylan, Morgans, and Kilfergus, in the County of Limerick, the Impropriate Tythes whereof are my Estate, but nevertheless I take this opportunity of Intimating to the Inhabitants of these Parishes, that upon my return to the Country, if any grievance shall there appear, I will be happy to confer and advise with them on the measures most expedient to remove the same, and such being my wish, and the Inhabitants of the said Parishes, having I trust experienced from me more than usual indulgence and tenderness, I am the more induced to hope they will not depart from that wise and salutary conduct, which must be the best security of their tranquillity and welfare.

this day, in pursuance of an advertisement from James Langton, Esq; High Sheriff.

The following Resolutions were entered into.

The HIGH SHERIFF in the Chair.

Resolved unanimously, That an Address be presented to his Grace the Lord Lieutenant, and that a Committee be appointed to prepare it.

Resolved, That the Committee do consist of all the Magistrates attending here this day.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Meeting be given to the Rev. John Parker, Thomas Furnell, Esq; and the inhabitants of the parish of Fedammore, for their Wife, Determined and Loyal conduct, so worthy of imitation in refusing to join with, and resolving to resist, all attempts that might be made by those daring insurgents who have so long disturbed the Peace of this Country, to induce them to join in those Outrages so disgraceful to this Province, and which are likely to prove fatal to many of those deluded men.—Our warmest thanks are also due to the Rev. John Parker, for acting like a Worthy and Prudent Magistrate, in calling for the assistance of the Military, on Sunday the 25th of June last, and to those Gentlemen who assisted him in apprehending many of the insurgents on that day assembled at Fedamore, and we are resolved to protect the above mentioned Gentlemen at the hazard of our lives and fortunes, against the resentment of these misguided Men. We also request that Lieutenant Saunders and Cornet Gale, the non-commissioned officers and Privates of his Majesty's 8th Regiment of Light Dragoons, will accept our thanks for their cool and determined behaviour on every occasion.

Resolved, That it was originally intended to take into consideration at this Meeting, the Grievances that are alledged to exist, but that the Outrageous Proceedings of the Insurgents still continuing, prevent us from entering upon the Subject at present.

JAMES LANGTON, Sheriff.

Resolved, That the High Sheriff do leave the Chair, and that Sir Henry Hartstonge, Bart. do take it.

Resolved, That the Thanks of this Meeting be given to our Worthy High Sheriff, for his care and attention to the preservation of the Peace of this County, and for his very proper Conduct in the Chair.
