

drogheda, master is now at Buxton wells, in Derbyshire, for the recovery of his health.

It is supposed that the express which has been dispatched to Lord Drogheda, at Buxton, is relative to the late arrangements which took place within these few days past in the ordnance department.

Notwithstanding it was on Saturday night asserted, that Mr. Ward was in existence, we can assure our readers, that the unfortunate gentleman has been dead those some days past, and his remains were this morning deposited in a vault belonging to St. Anne's church.

The violent proceedings of the Marquis of B——, in seizing on the property and effects of the above unfortunate gentleman, favours so much of Star Chamber tyranny, as to make us reprobate, in the highest degree, the conduct of a man, who (perhaps, for no crime), could be the means of hurrying a fellow-creature into eternity with all his sins upon his head: this has been the case with Mr. Ward; —deprived of his employment:—held forth as a public robber, without examination, or so much as leave to vindicate himself;—he had no alternative, but to drag on his existence, scorned by the people, or by ending his days, set at defiance his opponents, the latter of which, we are sorry, has been the melancholy consequence.

There's now on board the Maxwell, from Grenada, a sheep of that island, with a young lamb, which was yeaned on the passage, a strange phenomenon at this season of the year, with us; both the lamb and sheep seem to be in perfect health.

An order, we hear, has been sent to the Commissioners of police, to make up the accounts respecting that establishment to the first of this month, for the inspection of the Lord Lieutenant.

It is said that an eventual order has been transmitted here from London, that if no subsequent dispatch to the contrary arrives at the Castle by the first of November, every thing on the Irish establishment must be immediately after augmented to the full war establishment. This has undoubtedly a very singular appearance.

The place of Comptroller of the Laboratory, which it is said, for Mr. B—— the private Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, and son of the late Governor Bernard of Bristol, who was a conspicuous a figure, previous to the beginning of the American troubles.

Immediately on the demise of Mr. Ward, an order in behalf of his Majesty, was laid on the subject, but whether this is a legal step, or whether it is a matter fitest to be decided by the Court of the long robe.

Mr. Campbell has not failed to join his name as mentioned in the public prints.— of the Bench, where it is supposed the matter will undergo another investigation in November.

Clonmel, Sept. 8. Seized, on the 14th ult.
at Carrick-on-Suir, by William Roche, Esq; Surveyor of Excise, assisted by Molton and Ryan, Excise Officers, a large quantity of hops; and on the 25th, said Roche, assisted by Messrs. Lee and Molton, Excise Officers, seized a brewing pan, some private malt, and totally destroyed an extensive brewery; and on the 30th, the said Officers seized a large quantity of loose leaf, and manufactured tobacco, the entire of which they lodged in his Majesty's stores at Carrick.

CHANGES of Regiments, for the ensuing Five Years, which are unalterably fixed, except a War interfered.

In 1789—the 20th, 21st, and 24th regiments go to Nova Scotia and Canada, to relieve the 37th, 42d, and 53d, who go to England, and the 38th, 39th, and 40th, come to Ireland.

1790—the 1st, go to Jamaica to relieve the 3d, and the 12th, come from England to replace the 1st,—the 47th, and 62d, go to Nova Scotia to relieve the 54th, and 57th, who come to England, and the 22d, and 23d, come from thence to Ireland.

1791—the 13th, and 16th, go to Jamaica, to replace the 14th, and 19th, who return to England, and the 7th, and 35th, come from thence to Ireland,—the 15th, go to Grenada, to relieve the 30th, who return to England, and the 55th, come from thence to Ireland.

1792—the 46th, 51st, and 61st, go to Gibraltar, to relieve the 2d, 25th, and 59th, who return to England, and the 8th, 17th, and 53d, come from thence to Ireland.

1793—the 28th, 58th, and 69th, go to Gibraltar, to relieve the 11th, 18th, and 32d, who return to England.

Note—It is not yet determined what regiments come from England to Ireland this year.

We have just received an account of the death of Lieutenant Colonel St. George, of the 8th Dragoons, on his passage to the South of France; by his death Government have now the disposal of two Lieutenant Colonels, and one Captain's commission.—It is confidently said Major Craddock will be promoted to the 8th Dragoons, and Lieutenant Colonel Knight to the 27th regiment, vice Colonel Ferguson.

Four troops of the 9th regiment of Dragoons, commanded by Colonel Lesroy, are shortly to march into this City, to do duty until next summer.

On Monday night the 1st instant was apprehended on the lands of Gower, in the parish of Kilmacduane, co. Clare, under a capias from the Crown-Office of Ennis, by Lieut.
Morshead, and a party of the 1st regiment, under his command, (now quartered at Kilrush) Thomas and James Molony, and John Dillane, charged with having broke out of the gaol of Ennis, and committed divers other offences; great credit is due to Mr. Morshead and his party, for the cheerfulness and spirit with
