

ington has left Brussels, and various are entertained respecting his doing: it is said by some to be a reference between the Imperial Court of London.

It is reported to have had as its object every as our gracious Sovereign. It is time supplied with corn and other necessaries, of which relays are sent from the capital and other parts, by letters from Lisbon, have been sent to the reinforcement of the fleet, in the Mediterranean, on the coast of Barbary, with whom the Court is perpetually at variance. The Court at Lisbon, has prevailed on the Emperor to permit the escorting of some vessels to Malaga in Spain.

John last died in the 73d year of his age. Nicholas Griffinhouse, M. A. of St. James's, and Stow Street, and Lecturer of Stoke Newington, that day attended a meeting for promoting Christian Knowledge, health and spirits as he was ill; and from thence went to the Theatre in Covent Garden, where he was removed, he dropped from the stage, and expired in the course of the by James Forde, Denis M'Crane, and others, being acquitted of felonies they had been charged, were liberated; but the confinement they had and the peril they had just experienced, had little good effect on them, that the same evening and a great part of the night, drinking at a house in College-green, they parted, but at it seems to renew their depravity. Forde rambled towards the street, when observing the window of a linen-shop, No. 103, convenient to him, he found means to force it open, unheard by the owner, Mr. Forde, in a back room;—he then took up four shawls, two pieces of blue ribbon, and two pieces of gold and silver lace, and after having broke the till, he took the contents, which were thirty pounds and a half, and two silver pieces which booty he got safe into the

The Right Hon. the Earl of Carhampton is, we hear, appointed Lieutenant General of the Ordnance in this kingdom, in the room of the late Lieutenant General Hale.

It is really astonishing, says a correspondent, that the advocates for imprisoning unfortunate debtors should urge the necessity of such proceeding, on the grounds of supporting public credit, in a commercial nation, when nothing can be more injurious to both than locking up so many useful hands, whose labour and exertion in their respective arts of industry are lost to them, their families, and their country.—As physic is designed for the diseased, so punishment of any kind is only for the guilty. A person simply considered as owing money, is not of that class; the rich bad pay-master, the fraudulent dealer, or the knavish swindler, who contract obligations they have neither wish nor ability to discharge are the only just objects of a writ, action, or Marshalsea. Why, therefore, are such numbers of miserable creatures suffered to starve in a jail, where rags, poverty, and a straw bed, can never satisfy a creditor, but whose liberty and industry might gradually reduce the most exorbitant demand.
