DUBLIN, March 8.

Parliament of Ireland.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.
Saturday, March 5.

The house was called over, in order to ballot for a select committee to try and determine the merits of the petition of John Bagwell, Esq. also the petition of several freeholders, complaining of an undue election and return for the county Tipperary, when the following members were chosen the committee:—Robert Langrishe, John Wolfe of Newland, Richard Maginnis, Esqrs. Hon. William Cuffe, George Knox, Esq; Hon. Hugh Howard, Sir John Freke, Barr. John Staples, Edward Hoare, Richard Grace, Francis Hardy Esqrs. Hon. Nathaniel Clements, William Parkinon Ruxton, Arthur French, Esqrs. and Colonel E. Coote, who were sworn at the table, and ordered to meet forthwith.

A message from the Lords, by the Lord Chief Baron and Mr. Justice Bennett, that the Lords had agreed, without any amendment, to the bill for regulating and extending the tobacco, sugar, and coffee trade; and also to the French commercial treaty bill, which were ordered to the Lord Lieutenant for transmission.

Another message from the Lords by two of the Masters in Chancery, that the Lords had agreed without any amendment, to the track-way bill, which was ordered to the Lord Lieutenant for transmission.

Mr. HOLMES presented a petition from two hundred and forty prisoners confined for debt in the Four-Courts Marthalea, on behalf of themselves and the other prisoners confined for debt in the several prisons in this kingdom, praying relief;—which, after being very humanely supported by Mr. John O'Neil, was received, read, and ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. GRATTAN observed, some time ago he had presented to the house a petition from the corporation of the city of Dublin, and a petition from the merchants of the city of Dublin, praying that a bounty might be allowed on the export of corn from the port of Dublin, which petitions were now lying on the table.

and amending several acts relative to the importation of teas into this kingdom.

Sir J. PARNELL opposed the motion, on the ground of the incapacity of the nation to avail herself of the trade—and the other trite topics of objection.
Sir L. O'Brien also opposed it; as did Mr. Osborne, Mr. Mason, Mr. Bushe, Mr. Moore, Mr. Archdall, Sir B. Roche, and Mr. Burgh.
It was supported by the Right Hon. D. Larouche Hon. Mr. Steward, Major Doyle, Sir James Cotter, Mr. Forbes, Mr. Grattan, &c.

At one o'clock this morning the question was put where there appeared.
