We are happy to hear from Westford, that the contagious fever which raged there for some time, and threatened to depopulate that county, is entirely disappeared.—LEIXSTER JOURNAL.

A pensioner of Chelsea Hospital, who lives in Leyden, and who has been blind for several years, has recovered the invaluable blessing of sight, within these few days past, by the professional hands of Doctor Barthwick, of that city, by means of extracting the cataract.

The very high character which our fishery carries in the eyes of foreign nations, is no inconsiderable proof of its improving state, and augments the national importance of that article.

Saturday last, as a man was loading a cart with timber, at Newtown-Perry, a beam unfortunately fell upon him, which broke his skull, and he expired on the spot.

CHINERS a Year.—BOARDS and TUITION—ENTRANCE, FIVE.

The Situation is known to be one of the best in the Kingdom. [e] May 9, 1791.

A CAUTION.

I Do hereby caution the Public, not to employ any of the late named Servants, for they have been respectively engaged to me for the entire of this Season, and have lately entered into a Conspiracy, and acted contrary to their positive Agreement with me, for which I mean to take such Steps against them as shall be advised, not only to punish them for the present Misdemeanor, but also to prevent the like from being inflicted upon, by those idle disposed Men; I also think it incumbent on me to inform the Public, that the several Gentlemen concerned in public Business in the Vicinity of this City, had pledged themselves to the Commissioners of the New Gaol, that they would not at any Time, during the Continuance of the Works, employ any of the Artificers thereof, without being regularly discharged; wherefore, I hope those Gentlemen will take this Caution, in order to suppress in future, such unlawful Proceedings. Dated, New Gaol, Limerick, May 2, 1791.
