On Sunday next a Charity Sermon will be Preached at St. John's Church, by the Rev. Mr. James Wilmot Ormsby, for the Benefit of St. John's or the Fever Hospital.

The Slave Trade, in the abolition of which every friend to justice and humanity is so much interested, has met with supporters in the House of Lords—Princes and Peers have generally feelings different from the rest of mankind; but if Providence had placed them nearer the state of the poor and oppressed, they, no doubt, would be more sensible of their miseries and sufferings.

Should the bill for abolishing the Slave Trade be rejected in the House of Lords, the conduct of the pampered Peers of England will be deservedly reprobated by every man of virtue and feeling in the universe, and the indignation of the people will be carried so far as to effectually destroy the West India trade, by refusing to consume any of its wicked and criminal produce.

Last Monday evening, Cornelius Kean, on whom a Bag of Corn fell, which had been craning up at a Store in Newtown-Pery, was received into the County Hospital, having his left ankle dislocated, a violent contusion on his right knee, and a desperate wound in his head.

DIED. This morning in Mungret-street, in the 20th year of his age, Mr. Joseph End, only son of Mr. William End, Pewterer.

At John's-Gate in an advanced age, Mrs. Connell, relict of the late Mr. John Connell, brewer, much regretted by a numerous acquaintance.
