

...y gets rid of em. To Lord ore the High man shall die
 " and to Lord ken in such a dship is resolvthe Commons,
 ring the Slave
 House of Lords,
 below the bar,
 he event.
 W. ure from office,
 to competesse character, and nsult him in his lion of our fa-or a prospect of inisters, that in-
 of one doctrine, ny single prin-
 of all free go-of opinion, that be popular, was wish. The most can result from than this; the pon no stronger without the pont it; and def-e government of , any imposition ome popular, is diate harm, but, it leaves a per-is errors and of d not malign the oppose his doc-he peace of the
 . Pitt and Lord
 o not hold them-
 y. In this res-whatever censur ewise deserves
 , that a respect ore towards pe-ngdom, than a throughout it rprised at the rels by Lord Tur-his Lordship is of the most confi-
 ever had, anoot probation cer-hich he considers wealth, at very of a limited mo-er chang in the e of the mission unfounde. The the Mquis of most likely upon urther variation in are warranted in tached to the Mire convinced that o is capable, or at of government in e, they continue upon principles of isted at the Cad at the Queen's

...spectable branch of Legislature, exceed even the writs and patents of nobility issued in the reign of his late Majesty, when that primum mobile of corruption, Walpole, ruled the helm.
 A certain country 'squire, remarkable for shamming his creditors, was dubbed a Peer, through the interest of Lord Lieutenant Carterret, in 1729. His Lordship was also so illiterate as not to know the English of a Latin motto, which a friend had chosen for his coach and plate. Happening one day to meet Dean Swift at the Levee, my Lord produced the motto in manuscript, and asked, if it was not extremely elegant. Let me see said the Dean, Haud male notus. How do you construe those words?—Faith, I do not rightly remember, but I think it is something about my being no upstart, that is, well known.—Very true, replied Swift, better known, than trusted.
 Yesterday morning commenced in the Theatre of Trinity College, the examination for the two Fellowships vacant in that Society, by the promotion of the Rev. Dr. Stack to the united parishes of Omagh and Killyleagh, in the dioceses of Derry and Down, and by the death of the Rev. Mr. Marsh, late one of the Senior Fellows.
 The candidates are Messrs. Pasley, Thompson, Scott, Ryan, Prior, Maturin, & White, A. B.
 And the different courses have hitherto been examined in the following manner: Wednesday morning, Logics, by Arthur Browne, Esq; L.L.D. and Member for the University.—Wednesday evening, Mathematics, by the Rev. Dr.
 Hall.—This morning, Natural Philosophy, by the Rev. Dr. Young.—This evening, Moral Philosophy, by the Right Hon. the Provost.
 The public examinations will close to-morrow evening at four o'clock; the private, which is solely confined to composition, at the same hour on Saturday, and the new Fellows will be declared on Monday at noon.
 Extract of a letter from Paris to a Gentleman in this city.
 " In the horrid calamities to which the first repulse of our troops has exposed us, the greatest alleviation we can find is in the reflection, that the want of discipline is judged to be the true cause of our discomfiture, together with some little suspicion of treachery. The whole forces of the enemy at each post, were, by traitorous information, apprized of every intended movement; and consequently, nothing but defeat could attend troops who at first pushed forward with all the ardour and confidence of men who thought their approach utterly unknown to the Austrians:—but misfortunes are not new in a state of warfare; and the expectation of a resolute subordination and attention to discipline, which the troops now see to be essential and indispensable, will speedily mitigate the grief and indignation with which we are penetrated by the late disastrous scenes.
 " The idea of a defeat, painful as it was, would not so deeply have wounded our feelings, had not the subsequent extravagance and cruelty alarmed us for the fate of our general operations:—but we rejoice that the National troops behaved with spirit on the occasion, and that, not only on the frontiers, but through all the country, the ardour of military discipline and strict subordination is now felt, understood, and acknowledged.
 " At this moment, in this city, waving the consideration of the toil attached to the obligation of military evolutions, and animated with the pleasing hopes of the public good, which can result only from unanimity and steady discipline, all ranks and conditions are engaged in attaching themselves to the National

...impute to our national views any narrow, selfish, or cruel traits: I am certain I may safely assure you, my friend, that all our misfortunes arise from the ambition and restless lust of domination, which has ever leagued the superior clergy with the insatiate usurpations of evil Counsellors and Statesmen;—but for this league France would now enjoy a plenitude of happiness, tranquillity, and freedom, beyond any other country.
 " But I have tired you with my political observations; but as my heart is engaged in a cause, which is truly the cause of Europe and of mankind, you will excuse me that I pass the limits of epistolary friendship." MARRIED. Mr. Edward Brady, to Miss Lucinda Reilly, of Nassau Street.—At Waterford, Mr. Michael Hare, printer, to Miss Geary.—At Tralee, Mr. John Neligan, apothecary, to Miss Freeman, daughter of Mr.
 Thomas Freeman, of the Tralee Academy.
 DIED. In Cook Street, Mr. Mark Rourke, Surgeon.—Mr. George Cullen, printer.
 Waterford, May 31. Yesterday five companies of the 45th regiment of foot, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Lenox, marched in here from New Geneva, and proceeded this morning to Dublin.
 Ennis, May 31. On Monday last, the following Horses run for a purse of ten Guineas, over the Course of Assolas—two mile heats:— C. J. O'Brien, Esq's. Theris 1 1 Capt. Macnamara's Nutcracker 4 2
 Mr. Enright's Miss Godfrey 2 3 Boyle Vandeleur, Esq's. b m 5 4 Mr. Canny's g g 3 5 FAIRS in the Co. CLARE.—June, 1792.
 4 Ballycorick, 17 Dromore, 7 Toomgraney, 20 Miltownmalbay, 8 Turlamore Race, 23 24 Spancelhill, 15 Rosmanaher, 27 Callaghan's mills.
 Died. Last Thursday, at Cranaher, Mrs.
 Mary Thynne, widow of the late Mr. Valentine Thynne, of Fantore.
 Watson's Limerick Chronicle.
 L I M E R I C K.
 * * * ANDREW WATSON, PRINTER and BOOKSELLER, at the KING'S-ARMS, near the Exchange, Limerick, respectfully informs the Public and his Friends, that he has this Day commenced Business on his own Account; it will be his study to preserve a Preference in the several Departments of his Trade, by an unremitting Attention to every Order he is favored with. June 1, 1792.
 Tuesday evening, as the servant of Philip Hay, Esq; Timber-merchant, at Ross, County of Wexford, was taking a fine mare belonging to that Gentleman to water, at the Ferry-slip in that town, he, not perceiving his so near approach to the spot, pushed the mare forward; and in an instant, plunging into the river, was thrown over her neck; who keeping fast of the bridle, was, together with the animal, drowned in this very situation. Two men, who were eye-witnesses of the accident, endeavoured to relieve them both; but being unskillful in the management of the boat they had got into, were set adrift, and their humane intentions, of course, frustrated.
 PORT-NEWS, June 2. Arrived the Lively, Lacy, Greenock, pot-ash.—The Hero, Denny, Glasgow, window glass.

...of the TANNERS in general,
 Sold without reserve.
 (3 p.) Co
 TO BE
 FROM the 29th of Sept Term as shall be agreed GROUND in the Inishtown, w is; apply to MICHAEL GOC who is well supplied with TI Genuine OLD WHISKEY, an which he will engage free from forever.
 N. B. A Copying Mach
 Li
 TO BE
 TO be immediately LE the large Dwelling HO lately held by JOSEPH F THOMOND-GATE.—Applica
 WIDOW COLLINS, who wi Tenant on reasonable Terms.
 Lim
 A SALT WATI
 OF the best Quality, is in at DISART, near Ro and three Miles West of Ask Weck, for Sound Horses only having any Disorder.
 THE Fair of GLIN and falling on the 6th of Jun of both places, the FAIR of WEDNESDAY the 13th Instan (2 p)
 LIMERICK LO
 HUGH and HENRY B
 Friends and the Public
 First, Second and Third Qu Mills; in any Quantity.—The to be Ground.
 BOTTLED
 A N Old SPIRITS of
 IS now for Sale at RINGE STORES, back of his Ho rich sparkling CIDER well up Dozen, any Person taking five Dozen.—Old Spirits of WHI sale, on the most moderate T ONLY.—Retailers supplied on The Value of the Bott returned. [4P.]
 WHEREAS James A
 eloped from my Serv some Cloaths and a Gold W apprehending him found a S Chain in his Pocket, which I which the Owner can have on paying the Expences, by appl Esq; at Cahirmary. [2P.]
 IRISH INSURAN
 At A. WATSON's,
 L I M E R I C K.
 SUCH Persons as have th of their Property in F Lent on them, would do Insecurity thereof, except FROM FIRE, a Calamity Open Country as well as or Frequented Village; a Town and Country are IN Easy Rate as 3s. 6d. per Hundred Pounds as far as Sufferers by Fire cannot re Pity from the Public; and a in this City and Neighbor INSURED their Houses, C It is hoped that Others will consider the Necessity of it.