Last Sunday evening a considerable seizure of Leaf Tobacco, was lodged in his Majesty's stores in this City,—which was made near Newport, in the Co. Tipperary, by Messrs. A. C. Stritch, Surveyor of Excise, and Messrs. M'Daniel and Walsh, Revenue Officers.

The Incendiaries who privately conveyed hand-bills into several houses in this City, in order to intimidate the Citizens to illuminate their houses on Monday night last, on account of the Combined Armies evacuating France,—were grievously disappointed.—The Loyal Inhabitants of Limerick spurned the mandate, which had for its object the disturbance of public tranquility; not a house therefore in the City or Suburbs put up lights; this may serve as a lesson to the agitators of Sedition, that notwithstanding many respectable persons here, are pleased with France having nearly completed a revolution in that lately despotic kingdom, they are convinced that any Revolution in these happy Isles would be the greatest scourge that the Almighty in his wrath might inflict on a free People.

Monday evening Mr. W. Fitz—d, and Mr. John Hart—y, jun. fought a duel with pistols, in a field outside Thomoad-gate;—after an exchange of shots in which neither were wounded, the seconds interfered and made up the disagreement.

On Sunday night last, Died, at his house in Bank-Place, John O'Brien, Esq; merchant, a Gentleman, who, from the most amiable manners was respected and beloved by a numerous acquaintance.—He, in a particular manner, evinced the very great advantages that are derived to natural abilities, from a liberal education.—He died in the prime of life, and has left a most amiable Wife to lament the loss of the most endearing Partner of conjugal felicity.—His remains were yesterday taken for interment in the family vault near Corofin, Co. of Clare, attended by a numerous train of Friends and Fellow-Citizens on horse back and carriages, as we recollect on any similar melancholy event in this city.

MARRIED. Yesterday, Mr. John Gliffon, grocer, to the agreeable Miss Carroll, sister to Edward Carroll, Esq; of Ennis, attorney.

Two Hundred Ladies and Gentlemens

BEAVER HATS, Are this Day arrived to JOHN MEADE,

It is thought necessary to declare, (in order to prevent any unpleasant effects upon the minds of the friends and relatives of the gentlemen resident at the new Colony of Sierra Leona) that from the latest accounts received at Sierra Leona House there is not the least reason to believe that any unfriendly event can be taken place there. The Colony, whose object is to conciliate and preserve the affection and esteem of the natives, being at a date of those accounts upon the most friendly terms with all the neighbouring people, and at the same time in possession of power sufficient to repel any unprovoked hostile attempt.

CORK, Nov. 3.

The following Addresses from the Corporation of this City, and the Gentlemen of the Cork Bar, were agreed to be presented to the Right Honourable the Lord Chancellor, upon his arrival at the seat of Mr. Oliver, at the Little-Island in the neighbourhood of Cork, where his Lordship has been for some days expected, but we are extremely sorry to hear that want of health (his Lordship not being perfectly recovered from a late attack of the gout) will at this time prevent him from honouring this City with his presence.

To the Right Honourable John Lord Fitzgibbon, Lord High Chancellor of Ireland.

The Mayor, Sheriffs, and Common Council of the City of Cork, beg leave to express their great satisfaction at your Lordship's arrival in this vicinage; they are highly sensible of the many essential benefits derived to this Kingdom by your Lordship's unwearied attention to, and most honourable and praiseworthy Exertions in the due and faithful Administration of Public Justice, and are happy in being able to congratulate themselves and their country, in seeing such great legal abilities united with dignity, honour, and the most upright and unbiassed integrity.

To the Right Honourable John Lord Fitzgibbon, Lord High Chancellor of Ireland.

The Gentlemen of the Bar resident at Cork, beg leave to congratulate your Lordship upon your arrival in this County: They see and admire your Lordship's great Abilities, ever zealously exercised for the Public Service, in the most faithful, honourable, and impartial discharge of the arduous Duties of your exalted situation, and they feel themselves peculiarly happy in having the present opportunity of testifying their high Respect, and most affectionate Regards for your Lordship, their truly upright and much revered Countryman.

Deputations were appointed to wait on the Lord Chancellor with the above Addresses and in the most Respectful manner, to request his Lordship to Honor the Corporation and the Cork Bar with his Company at Dinner, on such days as his Lordship should be pleased to name.

Died, Yesterday morning, the Widow of Thomas Boles, Esq; very sincerely regretted by friends and acquaintances.

Drogheda, Oct. 30. On Sunday a most excellent Sermon was preached in St. Peter's Church, by the Rev. W. B. Kirwan, for the support of the Charity School of said parish. The collection amounted to 256l. 16s. 2d; and a proportion of a Lottery Ticket.
