 The meeting of Parliament is said to be fixed for Thursday the 24th of January next.
 A Right Hon. Gentleman, it is said, intends to bring forward as soon as possible, the propriety of establishing a national Mint in Ireland.
 Upon this measure there can be but one opinion, and that is, that it is indispensably necessary from the scandalous state of our silver and copper coinage.
 Last week one hundred thousand pounds worth of broad cloths, for which ready money was paid down, by the agent of the French Republic, were shipped at Hull in Yorkshire, for Dunkirk, for the purpose of clothing the French armies in the Netherlands.
 On Tuesday last the Managers of the Lottery committed to Newgate the proprietors of seven unlicensed Lottery Offices.
 As it is, probable, during their retirement these gentlemen may employ their leisure in calculating the odds of escaping punishment for illegal practices, we beg leave to observe, that while the Commissioners are so vigilant the chances are hollow against the success of an illicit trade.
 Late on Saturday night last, the trial at bar in the Court of King's Bench, of Stratford, against Burton, was by a most respectable Jury, determined in favour of the will of F. Burton, Esq; deceased.
 Monday morning the body of Mr. Russell, woollen-draper, of Skinner-row, was taken out of the river near the watering slip in Essex-street. He had been missing since Thursday night last.
 Last night, the house of a reputable inhabitant of Bridge-street, was attacked by a set of miscreants, who would have proceeded to the utmost excesses but for the seasonable arrival of Jacob Poole, Esq; High Sheriff, accompanied by a guard. Previous to the Sheriff's appearance, Mess. Bond, Dillon, Plunkett, Hayes, Ennis, and a number of the most respectable shop-keepers of the neighbourhood were active, to a very praiseworthy degree, in preventing the outrages of those banditti, some of whom have been committed to the New Prison.

The Citizens have been so much alarmed, in consequence of the dreadful fire which broke out on Wednesday night, that since that period, Property in Houses and Goods to the amount of 18,000l. have been Insured with A. Watson, Agent for Limerick, to the Irish Insurance Company.
 Yesterday evening, John Prendergast Smyth, Esq; one of the Representatives for this City, arrived at his house in Newtown-Pery, from Gort.
 By the statute to prevent unlawful combinations among the working people, it is enacted, "That any person entertaining a club, society, or company, whose purpose in meeting is to oppose the law of the land, becomes liable to severe penalties on conviction."—Under this clause there are at present some prosecutions instituted.
 There are those in this country, who seem to mistake the mildness for the impotence of our laws. Hence they think, because Sedition and Treason have sometimes gone unpunished, that they will always do so, and, presuming upon this supposition, continue to insult the understandings of loyal and dutiful subjects.— An example of such, we trust, will so be made, if it were only to vindicate the dignity and security of the press, which cannot fail to be degraded and injured by uncurbed licen-tiousness.

A MELANCHOLY CASE!!!
 The BENEVOLENT are humbly supplicated to Relieve a most Distressed Family, at the End of Thomond-Bridge.—The poor Husband, a Tradesman, having just recovered from a dangerous Fever, his Wife caught the Infection, and raging therein, was yesterday morning delivered without any Human assistance, and has at this moment two more young Children labouring under the same malignant disorder.— The truth of their deplorable Case is attested by Mr. Mort. Egan, Thomond Gate, and Mr. James Ryan, Mercer, by either of whom BENEFACTIONS will be thankfully received, and by the Printer hereof.—Mr. James Ryan has received since last publication for the above family, 2l. 5s. 6d.—Andrew Watson has received for the like purpose, from different Ladies and Gentlemen; 1l. 12s. 6d.
 MARRIED. Last Thursday, Mr. Edmund Musgrave, Sadler, to the agreeable Miss Stanley, daughter to Mr. Thomas Stanley.
 DIED. A few days ago, at Millford, co. of Clare, the seat of his brother, Edmund Comyn, Esq; Mr. George Comyn, aged 84, a gentleman who invariably supported the character of an Honest Man.
