

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The agriculture, the manufactures, the Protestant Charter Schools, and other public institutions, which have so repeatedly been the object of your care, will, I doubt not, engage your accustomed regard and liberality.

I am to recommend to you in His Majesty's name, to adopt such measures as may be most advisable for the maintenance of internal tranquillity, and for that purpose to render more effectual the law for establishing a Militia in this kingdom.

His Majesty has the fullest confidence that you will on all occasions shew your firm determination to enforce due obedience to the laws, and to maintain the authority of Government, in which you may depend upon his Majesty's cordial co-operation and support; and I have in particular command from His Majesty, to recommend it to you to apply yourselves to the consideration of such measures as may be most likely to strengthen and cement a general union of sentiment among all classes and description of His Majesty's Subjects, in Support of the Established Constitution; With this view, His Majesty trusts, that the situation of His Majesty's Catholic Subjects will engage your serious attention, and in the consideration of this subject He relies on the wisdom and liberality of His Parliament.

I am truly sensible of the repeated testimonies which I have received of your approbation, and I will endeavour to merit a continuance of your good opinion, by strenuously exerting the power with which I am entrusted, for the maintenance of our excellent Constitution in Church and State, as the best security for the Liberty of the Subject and the Prosperity of Ireland.

The Privy Council sat on Saturday in the Council Office, for the purpose of relieving some vessels bound to the West India Islands from the late embargo, "to prevent the exportation of provisions." This is the second Council which has sat lately on the same account, and shews the praise-worthy attention in Government to the interest of the merchant as well as to the supply of our foreign settlements.

Yesterday a quantity of Fire-arms, taken from improper Persons in the neighbourhood of Drogheda, &c. were brought on carts to the castle, under a Military escort.

This is the fourth time Britain armed for war, the three first of which terminated without any hostilities—we hope the same consequences may follow the present. The armament in support of the Stadtholder proved unnecessary; that against Spain perhaps obviated hostilities; and the intended attack on the Russian coasts in the Baltic was prevented by the peace between the Empress and the Turks.

Cork, Jan. 7. This day the last division of the 58th Regt. marched hence for Kilkenny, in place of the 17th regt. ordered to Dublin, in room of the 38th Regt. sent to the north to quell the disturbances there. The 17th Reg. are replaced here by the 69th Regt. from Kinsale.

Galway, Jan. 7. Yesterday, a woman was found dead in a cabin at the West Suburbs, stretched on the floor, and several marks of violence having appeared, and the cabin riddled with its contents; the Coroner's Inquest sat on the body, and brought in their verdict—willful murder against some person or persons unknown.

A Lover of Justice, has been received;—the compliments paid to the Proprietor, are too flattering, to appear in his own Paper.—The Resolutions of the Meeting on Sunday last, are under consideration, and the Mover of them, may yet probably find, that he might have been more profitably employed than in attempting to undermine a Newspaper which ever has, and ever will support good Government, Peace and Order in Society, in opposition to Anarchy, Sedition, and Licentiousness.—With respect to the various outrages committed on the House of WATSON, since Sunday last, an account of all these is reserved, until the business shall be completely investigated.

Thursday, a poor man carrying a bag of corn into the Mill on the North Strand, fell from the wooden bridge into the river, and unfortunately perished.

MARRIED. Last Thursday, by the Rev. Richard Croker, at St. George's Church, Captain John Croker, to Miss Honora Grady, second daughter to John Grady, of Cahir, in the County of Limerick, Esq; a most accomplished young lady, with a large fortune.
