TUESDAY, MARCH 19
 -ted the Militia bill with several amend-
 -Ordered to be engrossed.

andeleur wished to know whether the
 -1000 militia were to be called out.—
 -nmented to Administration to act, in
 -ent situation of the country, upon the
 -nomic system, and with the utmost
 -n. He stated that the expence of the -militia, as voted by the bill, would oc-
 -an annual expence of 400,800l. and
 -ie year's deficit of revenue in the same
 -on as the deficit of the revenue for the
 -months, it would amount to 320,000l.
 -together with the sum of 264,000l. in
 -case of the military and ordnance esta-
 -t, would amount to very near a million.
 -if a million was to be borrowed, it
 -cur a permanent sum of 50,000l. an-
 -or interest, as he understood that five
 -was to be paid for whatever money
 -be raised. He stated that most of the
 -ments were in arrears, and that the
 -were six quarters in arrear. Under
 -cumstances of the country, he recom-
 -that a solid and specific plan of eco-
 -ould be adopted; to the statement he
 -made, he added, that there was a loss
 -by the sale of the lottery, amount-
 -17,000l.

Chancellor of the Exchequer animadver-
 -he inconsistency of conduct of the Hon.
 -an. He had voted for the bill, and
 -t it was almost in its last stage, he dis-
 -d of the measure. He trusted that the
 -now about to be adopted would tend,
 -at measure, to restore the public credit
 -revenues of the country. He did not
 -spair but this country would be, ere
 -such a situation as to have a great in-

On Wednesday evening the 20th Inst. DIED, at
 -Newtown-Pery, Lady HARTSTONGE; Wife to Sir
 -Henry Hartstonge, Bart.—Sister to the Right Hon.
 -Lord Pery, and the Right Hon. the Lord Bishop of -Limerick; and Aunt to the Hon. Edmond Henry Pery,
 —Her Virtues were so many, and so eminent, that
 -Language is but ill fitted to describe them. Indefatiga-
 -ble in the pursuit, and constant in the relief of Misery,
 -never did an Object of Compassion apply to her in vain;
 -never did a Child of Poverty escape her merciful and
 -vigilant Enquiry. The meanest dwelling of Misfortune
 -she did not disdain to visit; nor did she fear to visit the -Chamber of Affliction where Contagious Sickness spread
 -its desolation;—and yet with an heart of the tenderest
 -sensitivity, she had an understanding of superior strength.
 -Amiable in her manners, complaisant in her address,
 -the Young have lost their Best Example—the Old their
 -brightest Ornament.—That Piety for which her Life
 -was exemplary, shone most conspicuously in her Death.
 -Her resignation to the WILL of GOD, was at once a
 -Comfort and Instruction to her Friends.—She has
 -left abundant Monuments of her Mercy; but those
 -which Time cannot deface, are the impressions of Res-
 -pect, of Love, and Admiration, which are engraved
 -upon the Heart of every one who had the happiness of
 -her Acquaintance.—This day the greatest number of all
 -ranks followed her Hearse, and with solemn and heart-
 -felt sorrow deposited her remains in the Hartstonge
 -family Vault at Bruff, in this County; during the
 -above melancholy procession, all the Shops in this
 -City were shut.

Five Complete Companies of Infantry are about to be
 -Raised by Captain Louis Bruce, of the 40th Regiment,
 —the offer has been made to his Majesty, and report
 -says the same has been accepted.—As this Gentleman
 -has very liberally come forward to Raise the Men
 -without any expence to Government, it is to be sincerely
 -wished that this truly patriotic and disinterested Under-
 -taking, will be supported by every loyal subject in this
 -City and County.

DIED, Thursday morning, in the Square, Miss
 -Croker, daughter to Edward Croker, of Grange-hill,
 -in the Co. of Limerick, Esq;—her death is sincerely
 -lamented by a numerous and respectable family, and
 -by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.
