The following Exhortation, was read at each Mafe, on Sunday laft, at the different Roman-Catholic Chapels in this Divceele, by order of Dr. Troy:

" Dear Bretbren.

"We halten to announce the tiches of God's goodness, displayed in a recent act of the Leguarure, reftoring the Roman Catholics of Ireland to a confiderable there in the Conftitution of their country. Our confcientious loyalty, and peaceable demeanour, dichated by the principles of our religion, have engaged the paternal accention of our most gracious Sovereign, and the humane confideration of both Houses of Parliament. They have united in decreeing a reward for our meritorious conduct, by the grant of leveral fubitantial benefit, recited in the act which has just polled in our favour. "Rejoice, then, dear brethren, in the Lard; again, we fay, rejoice; but, let your modefty be known to all men. Pour forth your thack! giving to the King of Kings, to our belived Monarch, to the Lords and Commons, and to all who have concurred with them in procuring our relief. Befeech the Supreme Legislature and bountiful bestower of every good, to preferre and direct his Majetty King George III. the tender father of all his people, to protect the Royal Family, to affilt both Houses of Parliament, and to shewer down the bleffings of his Providence on all ranks of our countrymen. -We conjure you, most earnestly, to manifest your gratitude to Heaven, and to our earthly Ralers, by the exact discharge of your obligations as christians and subjects. Let it not be faid, that in prosperity you have deviated from that obsevance of religious and focial duties, which to honourably diftinguished the Irish Roman Catholics in time of advertity. Confider, above all, most feriously, that we have not a permanent relidence in this earthly city, that we should therefore pant after heavenly things; and that we cannot obtain them without practifing the duties of religion. The bare profession of it is profane mockery, and will aggravate your guilt in the light of the Lord.

"We cannot but deplore the frequent tranfgreffions of God's commandments: That which enjoins the fandification of the Lord's Day, is most feandaloully violated by all ranks. Heaven is usually more outraged on that than all the other days of the week, by idle and haful diffi-

Humble yourselves then in his prefence, and be fecond to no description of his Majetty's subjects in the performance of those religious offs that may render the God of Sabbath propitions to us, and to the empire.

"May the Father of Mercies and the God of all Confolation hear our prayers I For the reft, dearly beloved brethren, rejoice, be per led, take exhortation, be of one mind, have peace, and the God of Peace and of Love shall be with you," was a second
