The report, which contained feveral refolu-

tions, being read.

Mr. Bereeford ftated, that he had that morning, in company with Mr. Fyans, a manufacturer, gone into the liberty, and that in three fireets he found that there were 244 perions aut of employment, whose families amounted to 648; -he faid that their lituation was luch, in point of poverty and wretchedness, as could fearcely be deferibed; feveral of them were without elothing, bed, or bedding; he diffribated tickets for an immediate supply of bread to them ;- lome whom he had vifired refuled to be supported in that manner, and all they wished for was to be employed at work.

Mr. Harvey foggefted the idea of entering into a subscription for the purpose of purchafing the goods on the hands of the manufactuvers, which, he faid, would be the means of ferting the persons out of employment immediately at work.

Mr. Barrington proposed, that the felect Committee frould be directed to lit, from time to time, in order to receive information, and to adopt fuch further refolutions as might tend to alleviate the prefent diffreffer of the working manufacturers, Manufacturers,

Mr. Sheares threw out the idea, that Government should purchase all the goods on the hands of the manufacturers, and that they should issue Exchequer bills for the same, which, he faid, would be the means of giving employment to the workmen who are now out of work.

Mr. Emmett arraigned the conduct of the Committee, in not having traced the origin of the prefent diffrestes, which he attributed to England having improdently entered into the prefent war. He made fome observations of a political nature, which were by no means relewant to the object of the meeting.

Mr. Beresford replied to Mr Emmet.

Mr. Barrington defended the conduct of the

Mr. laffray alfo defended the conduct of the Directors of the National Bank, who were alluded to in some observations which fell from Mr. Beresford.

On the motion of Mr. Alexander, the refolutions contained in the report were read paragraph by paragraph, and after fome amendments, they were agreed to, after which the Affembly adjourned, and the Committee were directed to fit from time to time, and report their proceedings at a future day, of which public notice thould be given.

On Sunday last a Charity Sermon was preached in St. Mary's Chapal, by the Rev. Mr. Goonan, in aid of the House of Industry and Hospital for Lunatics; his excellent and pathetic appeal to the feelings of the Congregation were such as evinced him to be the universal Christian; to those who heard him, and contributed to the Charity, which he fo powerfully recommended, their feelings must be amply gratified; and if the Preacher was not equally to by the collection, it must be attributed to the true cause, that of the smallest congregation which has been feen in that Chapel for a confiderable time paft .- No retura has get been made of the fum collected.

Yesterday morning, a most respectable ald Gentleman, who on Sunday attended the Charity Sermon at St. Mary's Chapel, and at the time contributed to the Collection, gave A. Wation, Treasurer to the House of Industry, three Guineas for faid Charity.

Last Sunday night, about 12 o'Clock, seven Villains with their faces difguiled, broke into the house of the Widow Clarke, at Lifnamrock, near Kilpeacon, and after beating the ferwants, and threatening to cut Mrs. Clarke and the family with long knives, with which they were armed; they robbed the house of some Cash, a fhort Gun, a Man's new Hat, a parcel of fheets, and other articles.

Monday night, Mr. Adam Dick, returning from Limerick to his house at Donals, was thrown from his horse, where he lay until discovered next morning, at which time he shewed some figns of life, but shortly after died; he was an honest, industrious man, and is much regretted. BIRTH. On Monday night, the Lady of Sir Mat-
