BELFAST, Oct. 23] - The Turkish man and woman who have for fome time pail been in the house of the Sovereign, call themselves Abb de Rabman Rais and Sara his wife. They are drefled in the Turkish habit, and have the appearance and minners of persons bred in decent life. They report that he was a filk merchant in Tunis. That on their voyage in a Datch veffel for Rotterdam in April laft, with a valuable cargo of filks, the property of a house in which he was a partner, they were captured by a French privateer and taken into Dankirk. From thence they were ordered to depart in three days, and having taken their passage in an American vessel bound for Liverpool, were advised there that many opportunities occur of thips from Cork for different ports in Barbary; and thus they account for their coming to Belfatt in one of the linen thips, They now only remain here for an opportunity of being taken back for Liverpool. Their paffport is figned, " Le Baron de Fullade," a Commandant of the National Guard. It is extraordinary that the word " Baron" fhould have been used, fince the abolition of titles of GALWAY, October 21 We are happy to hear that Lieutenant Matcolm of the 41ft Regiment, who so spiritedly religned his Adjutantey to go on foreign service, with the Grenadiers of that Regiment, is appointed by Sie Charles Gordon to the Adjutantcy of the first Battalion of Grenadiers under his command, and Serjeant Beandsby, for whom, as a good drill, the Galway Militia offered an enormous fum for his discharge, is also appointed by Sir Charles Gordon, his Quarter-Master, to the faid Battalion of Grenadiers,
