In that part of Poland which has been seized by Russia, the Empress has issued orders that no communication shall be maintained with the Papal See, but only with the ecclesiastical authority at Petersburg. Bishops are no longer to be appointed from Rome.

Considerable apprehensions are entertained least one or more of the Hamburg packets have been lost; and this in consequence of a report brought by a vessel said to be arrived at an Eastern port, which on the evening of Wednesday, when the wind blew so severely at S. W. saw another, of the description of a Hamburg packet, in the utmost distress. Several ships were driven from their anchors the same night on the above coast.

JAN. 5.—An order for fresh cured provisions for the use of the British garrisons abroad, the largest ever known on Government account, has been lately sent to Ireland. The quantity is 30,000 tons; of which 12,000 tons from Cork, 8000 from Waterford, and 10,000 from Dublin.

The Leeward Island Mail which arrived yesterday, has brought no intelligence of much importance with respect to the state of the Leeward Islands. (See London Gazette.)

No Mails from Hamburg have yet arrived.

DUBLIN, — January 7.

We are much concerned to find, that in the County of Armagh, disturbances of the most alarming nature prevail;—Rioters, under the specious characters of Protestants and Roman Catholics meet each other, not like Men, but rather as ferocious Beasts of Prey—the consequence is, that the Peaceable of each Denomination are retiring from their Cabins and Farms.—Lord Gosford, as Governor of the County, called a meeting of the Magistrates on the 28th ult. at Armagh, and after delivering an Address in favor of the latter class, moved for and carried a Resolution, that a subscription be opened for the protecting their persons and property, and prosecuting offenders of every description in the County of Armagh.

We are sorry to find, that Caleb Barnes Harman, Esq; mentioned in the last page of this paper to have been wounded in an attack, by a party of Defenders, upon his house at Bawn, in the county of Longford, is since dead. He was brother to Lord Oxmantown, and Member of Parliament for the co. of Longford. The miscreants who perpetrated this atrocious act, have hitherto eluded the most vigilant search.

A Privy Council will be held at twelve o'clock this day, at the Castle, for the purpose, as we are informed, of taking into consideration the present high price of grain, and the exportation of biscuit from this city.

Several persons are summoned to attend in order to give information respecting the causes of the present high price of grain.

Yesterday, at a Post-Assembly of the Corporation of Dublin, held in the Exhibition-house, in William-street, came on the election of an incumbent for the vicarage of Rathdrum, in the county of Wicklow, vacant by the death of the Rev. Charles Strong.

There were several candidates; the first sent down by the board of Aldermen, for the concurrence of the Commons, was the Rev. Peter Carleton, A. M. Dean of Killaloe, on whom a ballot taking place, there appeared

White beans, for him, 41
Black beans, against him 78

Which negatived the nomination by 37

The board then sent down the name of the Rev. Richard Powel, A. M. curate of St. Catherine's parish, when, a ballot being had, he was unanimously elected.

On looking into Johnson, whose authority at present, is sufficient to have a Man we find Mercantile Coffee-House.

We have seen a paragraph in the Star, Sun, and most of the Papers printed in London, on the 31st ult. "asserting, that Charges were exhibited by Sir Harry Hayes, against Lord Doneraile, at a Court Martial now sitting,"—how such an internal idea of revenge could enter into the heart of the most implacable enemy to his Lordship, is beyond the comprehension of every person acquainted with his character as Commander of the South Cork Militia, by whom it is well known he is adored;—and as a Gentleman both amiable in public and private life, as well as the most indulgent Landlord, he does not need our panegyrick.—From the best authority we can assure the Publick that not an iota of this alledged charge has been suggested, much less brought before the honourable tribunal of a General Court Martial;—and it gives us a peculiar pleasure in thus taking the earliest opportunity in our power in refusing so diabolical an attack made on this amiable Nobleman, trusting that every Irish Print which has copied the same, will, with us, be as ready to wipe away the foul aspersion.

The bloods of the present day imitate the dress of the Ladies; for they have changed their Great Coats, for Petty Coats.
