Carrick-on-Shannon, Sept. 29. Yesterday the Tipperary Militia quartered here, marched from the Barracks to the Review field, preparative to their being reviewed by Major General Johnson, who, with his fuite arrived last night.

The General entered the field about one o'clock, when the Regiment went through their movements and firings, with that coolness, regularity and exactness, which has long distinguished the Tipperary Militia. As foon as the review closed, the General requested Colonel Bagwell, the Commanding Officer, would order the Officers to the centre, and then expressed to each, in the strongest manner his high approbation of the appearance and discipline of the regiment in terms highly flattering to that corps; requesting that each capt in would return his (the General's) warmest thank before he recired, to their refpective companies, for their good conduct this day, as well as their general behaviour in their respective cantonments. The General then inspected the barracks, bedding, &c. and ordered necessary repairs, &c. and this morning fet oil to Roscommon, to review the King's County Regiment.

Cork, Od. 5. Sunday arrived at Cove, his Majesty's ship Sea Horse, Captain Oakes, with two Spanish Galleons, her prizes taken off Cape Finistrre, about 14 days ago; the largest a Spanish frigate, pierced for 28 guns, with a valuable cargo, belides feveral chelts, containing gold and filver, a part of which that could be got at to amount to 150,000l. Captain Oakes thifted at fea into the Sea Horse, the other is loaded with the Jame cargo, but the treasure has not been come at, fupposed to be stowed under the goods in her after hold.

They are far the most valuable prizes that has been brought into this country fince Talbot's Galleons were at Kinfale,

It is supposed the common seamen in the Sea-Horse, will thare for this cruize three hundred pounds each. On the 29th September, Sampson Jervois, Efq; was fworn in Provost of Bandon; when Stawell Webb of Woodbrook, in the County of Dublin, and Robert Reeves of the City of Dublin, Efgrs. were presented with the Freedom of the Borough of Bandon Bridge.

The cruizers on this station under command of Vice Admiral Kingfinill, have taken from the enemy within the last year, upwards of 500,000l.
