

are in a very forward state, and will shortly be fit for any service they may be wanted for.

General Smith continues unremitting in putting this District, which he commands, in a most formidable state of defence; he has fitted out a number of Gun-boats in the River Shannon, it being deemed absolutely necessary for the safety of this Port; and in order to Man them, Henry D'Esterre, Esq; has proposed to Government to raise a Crew, of loyal stout fellows, to serve in the River Shannon for the defence of its Shores and this Port.—Numbers of Volunteers have enrolled themselves, and thereby evinced a spirit of loyalty, which has ever distinguished all ranks of subjects in this City.—We hope this spirited plan will be adopted throughout our Sea Ports, and as Limerick is, we believe, the first Port from whence the offer has been made, we cannot give too much praise to the Gentleman who proposed it.

Yesterday evening the first division, and this day the remainder, of the Westmeath regiment of Militia, marched into this City, from Nenagh, &c.

Last night Colonel Prendergast Smyth arrived at his House at Newtown-Pery, from Dublin.

Since our last publication, several humane Ladies and Gentlemen have expressed their approbation of the plan for relief of Sick Poor, submitted to the Public in said Publication, under the signature of Philanthros,—from the Subscriptions already offered to the Printer, as well as what may be expected, we sincerely hope the truly benevolent plan will be shortly carried into effect in this populous City!—On Saturday an unknown Lady sent a Guinea to the Printer hereof, for the use of the House of Industry.
