RUMFORD'S Fire Improvements.
PATRICK BYRNE, respectfully informs the Public, that he is just arrived from Dublin, where he has been employed in the purpose of procuring full and accurate information in Count Rumford's celebrated new Fire improvements, and having received complete information in that line, is ready to receive their Commends, and undertakes to Cure Smoaking Chimnies effectually in all situations, engaging them to draw perfectly well, in every change of wind and weather; likewise sets all kinds of Boilers for Brewers, Distillers, or Kitchens, with Ovens and Steam-boilers, and by which any joint of Meat, large or small, can be dressed perfectly well and more expeditious than if done by Fire.—To be heard of at John Healy's Publican and Baker, John's-street, near John's Church, Limerick, or the Printer hereof.
