

as it is developed, dangerous system of the British empire. The King of Portugal, and the British dominion, or independent Republic subservient as a shield against England. It is probable, if we consider which they have pursued, assigned for doing the same. As Venice while the Emperor formidable and un- able to suppose that they would depart from this sentiment when Buonaparte is victorious, and the Emperor has formed a temporary too powerful to be, in order to seize they have acquired by the Government their 82 of 40 frigates, and the Mediterranean, contributions, and the Venetian territories. Our trade with the Continent without including the red goods to that to the amount of 100,000,000 to the amount of 100,000,000. The emulation pecuniary country, will best be seen in which all Loans are subscribed to; it has always been found to be profitable—the present system only, seems un- derstand, when the fact is greatly raised the

DIED. Last Wednesday suddenly, in Nenagh, much lamented by her family and acquaintance, Mrs. Dickson, relict of Mr. Daniel Dickson, late of this City, Woollen Draper.—At Bruff, on the 20th Instant, Mrs. Anne Keane, Wife of Mr. James Keane, sincerely and most universally regretted; in her amiable breast were concentrated the tender affections and ties of Wife and Mother, and the sincere and unfeigned impressions of disinterested friendship.

PORT-NEWS, June 23. Arrived the Hero, Stewart, Dumbarton, coal.—The Molly, M'Farlane, Dumbarton, coal.—The Peggy, Levison, Greenock, ballast.—Sailed the Kitty, Duncan, Liverpool, oats and butter.

 MR. COOPER will Attend at Tipperary, on the 10th and 11th of July, to receive the usual Rents.
(3 p.) Cashel, June 23, 1797.

PETER CHARLES O'KEEFFE,
 REQUESTS such as are Indebted to him will immediately Pay in the Amount of their respective Accounts, as from the very light Profit he takes on Linen Drapery, and other Goods, he cannot possibly leave them any longer due. The severity of the times, he sincerely hopes, will be a sufficient excuse for this request; and also for his fixed determination, in future not to sell any Article whatsoever on Credit.

N. B.—Cork and Dublin Bank Notes taken as Cash, or the difference given in such between Approved Bills, at 31 Days, not exceeding 50l. and the amount of any Account due, or any articles of Linen, Mullin, Callico, or Hosiery, purchased at his House.
CHARLOTTE'S-QUAY,
(3 p.) June 24, 1797.

 TO be SOLD, a Strong Good CHAISE, and JAUNTING CAR;—Apply to the PRINTER.
Limerick, June 24, 1797.

 Wanted at Interest, TWO HUNDRED POUNDS upon unquestionable Security.

N. CALLWELL'S
ARMS OF IRELAND,
(Licensed pursuant to the Act of Parliament)

TO THE
THE very ample share of THIS OFFICE has been a number of years past, improved by his numerous Patents, which induce him to recede from the sale of TICKETS and SHARES of the LOTTERY, which consists of

First, The present Lottery is more advantageous than any former Lottery, and renders it almost certain, and consequently dear, at the present time.

Second, It being generally agreed that the Lottery will be the only method of raising Money for Peace takes place, this circumstance of Purchasers, as any large sum will purchase almost double the value of Government Securities, in the event of the same Prize would be paid after Peace is concluded.

Third, The present Prize is moderate, being at least One-third of the whole, than they have invariably had, and have waited until a few days before the Lottery.

SCHEME of the IRISH

3	Prizes of 1.100
3	—
5	—
8	—
10	—
20	—
50	—
8,500	—

8,599 Prizes.
21,401 Blanks.

30,000 Tickets.

PRESENT PRICES of
WHOLE TICKETS
HALF, 1.3 10
QUARTER, 1 10

N. B. The above Prices are subject to the fluctuation of the Exchange, and depend on the lowest Price of the Country Correspondents Shares of Prizes, Post-Office