of the Representatives in Parliament for the Co.
Kerry, was returning from Church-Hill, the seat of the Rev. Maynard Denny, he was unfortunately thrown from his horse, and killed on the spot. The private and public virtues of this Gentleman, render him an irreparable loss to his country; and one whose death will long be lamented by all those who had the happiness of his friendship or acquaintance.

We have the pleasure to inform the Public, that the celebrated Violin-Player Mr. Bianchi, whose powers on that instrument are allowed to equal those of any other Performer in this Kingdom, will sing at the Concert at St. Mary's Chapel on Sunday next.

From the well-known Abilities of the Preacher, the great respectability of the Gentlemen that are to be Collectors, and the extraordinary Powers of the Performers at the Concert, we have the most sanguine hopes that the Collection will be such, as to enable the Directors to support this truly Charitable Institution, which we are sorry to say, is at present, from the precariousness of the Subscriptions, in a very declining state.

BIRTH. On Saturday last, at the Grove, the Seat of Colonel Odell, the Lady of Michael Scanlan, Esq; High Sheriff of this County, of a Son.

DIED. Last Friday, at Riverstown, in the County of Clare, deservedly lamented, Mrs.
Tymens, wife of John Tymens, Esq.—Saturday night, in Mary-street, sincerely lamented by a very numerous and respectable acquaintance, Mrs. Catherine Merry, (a Maiden-Lady) who for a series of years, was mistress of a Boarding School in this City, which she conducted with honor to herself, and highly to the advantage of her Pupils.—Last Sunday in the 63d year of her age, Mrs. Catherine Russell, wife of the late Mr. Francis Russell, pewterer.—Same day, after a few minutes illness, at Ballycar, in the Co. Clare, Mrs. Casey, relict of the late Anthony Casey, Esq.—Yesterday, at Newtown-Pery, in a good old age, and most sincerely lamented, Mrs. Freeman.—This morning, at her lodgings in Nicholas-street, Mrs. Nestor, (a Maiden Lady) niece to the late Alderman Jones, of this City.
