

Proposed to the British Parliament, is said to be for twenty-one millions for the Bank of England, with a loan of three millions for Ireland at the same time. The advices from the melancholy details of the distressed trade from Liverpool to the other destinations, has suffered of the vessels bound to this port, two only, the Bersey, Smit-ge, Whiteside, have escaped considerable damage; the Antre, the Hibernia, Jones, the George, Englis; the crews perished by the violence of the weather. The loss and shopkeepers is generally well remembered. [Hib. J.] To be an Irish loan of three millions in London with the British Government will undoubtedly fit for the next month.
