LIMERICK, — December 13.

There are letters in town, which relate a most disastrous event having taken place a few days ago, at Kilworth, in the County Cork;— how or in what manner the wretched Victim paid the debt to nature, we are not fully authorized to say.—But as it may, it will, we hope, prove an impressive lesson to every Libertine, in his situation be ever so exalted, not to sport with the Feelings of a Parent or Brother, in that they are equally bound to protect, both by the Laws of God and Man!
