Stone Hall, 16th June, 1799.

At a Meeting of the Non-commissioned Officers and Privates of the Kenry Cavalry, it was un- animously agreed that a Sword, with the following Acers, be presented to their beloved CAPTAIN, JOHN WALLER:—

At the eve of your departure from us to Eng- land, we entreat your acceptance of a Sword, which we present you as a small testimony of the perfest love, respect, and esteem we entertain for you, our Captain and our Friend. Your kind, unceasing, gentlemanly attention to us, from the day we have had the happiness to enrol ourselves under your Command, demands our warmest ac- knowledgments, and corresponds with the hopes we at first entertained of you, from your well known amiability of character. That character is now better known to us all personally—we have had the uninterrupted enjoyment of your company for the three months past, and we feel all the advan- tage of your animating precept and example; our loyalty to the best of Kings, and the most enviable Constitution, is confirmed by it—we are better soldiers, better men, and better christians.

My Men such as you, ever have authority, may successively be the Representatives of our Country, and such only be the hereditary Counsellors of the Nation, then indeed may Ireland rejoice.

Signed by Order, THOMAS QUINLAN, Permanent Serjeant.

TO THE KENRY CAVALRY.

GENTLEMEN, YOUR zealous and patient discharge of your duty as Soldiers, and indeed your exemplary conduct upon every occasion, places you so high in my opinion, that nothing can be nearer to my Heart than to possess your approbation. For this very flattering mark of it, accept my sincere thanks, and be assured, that I consider it as one of the hap- piest circumstances of my life, that I have been enrolled in defence of the best of Kings and of Constitutions, with Men worthy of so honorable and so good a cause.

Believe me to be, with great truth, Your obliged and very sincere Friend, JOHN WALLER.
