Dien. On Saturday, after a painful illness, borne with meek and christian relignation, Mrs. Vereker, wife of Amos Vereker, Efq; of this City: to the greatest gentleness of manners, the added those other endearing qualities most likely to make her univerfally lamented-a partern of excelling virtue, and a friend to the wretched, flie anticipated their wants and in fecret relieved them-in private life her fincerity flamped a value on her friendship, and her chearfulnels and affability gave a zelt to her conversation-in the circle of her friends her lofs will long be felt, to her family it is irreparable --- Monday morning, at Caltle-Connell, Mr. George Henchy, of this City, an eminent Druggilt and Apothecary-his death is an afflicting loss to his family and extensive acquaintance.

By Permission of the Right Worshipful FREDERICK LLOYD, Efq; MAYOR. Theatre-Royal, LIMERICK,

JULY 17, 1799. THE Public are respectfully informed, that the Theatre will open on Monday next, July 22, with a New favorite Comedy, never Acted here, called
