

by going and riding at Philipshut and Mannheim, and that by this means he exposed Suwarrow to be beaten, notwithstanding the prodigies of valour which he and his troops exhibited at Altorf and Glaris.

It is plain that it will be no easy matter to settle this dispute, for those who are beaten have always some complaint; but the consequences of these quarrels between the allied Generals may be decisive of the issue of the campaign.

STRASBURGH, October 21. Suwarrow has entirely quieted the country of the Grisons, and is gone from Coire to Lindau upon the Lake of Constance. The defence of the Grisons remains with an Austrian corps 8000 strong, which will be reinforced by another corps from Italy under the command of General Kaim. Suwarrow is united with Korsakoff, so that the former General now commands about 30,000 Russians, concentrated on the Lake of Constance. The corps of Conde secure the means of communication with the Archduke. The Archduke is actually posted from Waldshut to Engen. His headquarters are still at Donaueschingen. He declares that he finds himself unable to send reinforcements to the Necker, and has consequently ordered his Generals who command there to act strictly upon the defensive, and to fall back into the interior of Suabia as soon as the French threaten to advance upon Stuttgart and Rastatt. Our troops again blockade Philipsburgh. The bombardment of this fortress will immediately commence.

From Mannheim we learn, that for some days past the head-quarters of General Ney have been transferred from that place to Schwetzingen; that a column of French troops lately arrived, had continued its march in order to reinforce those between Sensheim and Bruschal; that General Lecourbe has arrived at Mannheim; and that a bridge is to be thrown over the Rhine at Neckrau.

The siege of Philipsburgh continues in full activity. The day before yesterday our troops carried the entrenchments before that fortress on the right side of the Rhine.

We hear no more of the Mayanese insurgents, and it was at the moment of his defeat that M. d'Albini received from the Archduke a complimentary letter.

ENGLAND.

FALMOUTH, Nov. 12. Arrived here this day, his Majesty's ship Cambrian, Hon. Captain Legg, from a cruize, during which she captured the ship James, belonging to Liverpool, bound to New York; captured on the 18th ult. by the French privateer, l'Heureux, of 22 guns and 220 men; after an action of two hours fought with the utmost intrepidity: the James had 48 men, and 18 six-pounders: during the action she carried away her wheel and mizen mast, and every gun dismounted: she lost one man killed, and two wounded; she was recaptured on the 15th inst. All the crew excepting the mate and two boys, are on board the privateer.

HARWICH, Nov. 13. Arrived the Prince of Wales transport, Captain Andrews, from Yarmouth Roads, bound to the River, having landed sick and wounded troops brought from the Helder, at Yarmouth. The Kitty transport, A. Sterling, master, with upwards of 100 soldiers, belonging to the 20th, 40th, and other regiments, remains in harbour, the wind being unfavourable to proceed to Colchester. Most of the soldiers on board are in a state of convalescence.

SHEERNESS, Nov. 14. Arrived yesterday, the Braakel, of 54 guns, Captain Walker; Latona of 38 guns Captain Sotherton; and the Steady and Mastiff gun-brigs. The Braakel has brought home the Officers and seamen who were saved from the Nassau.

The Scorpion sloop came from the North into harbour.

LIMERICK, — NOVEMBER 23.

In consequence of the recent robbery of the Mail-Coach from this City to Dublin, an alteration has taken place—the Coach which should have arrived here on Wednesday night at 10 o'clock, did not arrive till Thursday night at 8.

The attention of the Benevolent is earnestly requested to alleviate prominent misery. Near 100 poor boys, most of them destitute orphans, must, if not prevented by the hand of Charity, be let loose upon the world, as the Fund of the Charity-School of St. Mary's parish, which has for above ten years past, clothed, educated, and instructed, several hundred poor children, is now nearly exhausted.—How fatal to society must be the consequences of an entire privation to the lower orders of all moral or religious precept or example! How ripe instruments for the commission of every species of criminality! Will not the guilt of such unfortunate victims be at the Day of Judgement charged to the uncharitable rich, who refuse a small pittance to rescue them from all the evil effects of vice and ignorance. We understand a Charity Sermon will be shortly preached at St. Mary's Chapel, for the support of that excellent charity. Mean time benefactions will be thankfully received, and acknowledged, by any of the Reverend Clergymen of the City, by John Howly, Paul Rochford, Andrew Watson, and Edward Flin, Esqrs. and by Mr. James Ryan, Treasurer to the Charity.
