LIMERICK, — NOVEMBER 30.

Thursday the 22d inst. the Right Hon. the Earl and Countess of Clare, were at the Drawing-room at St. James's; and same evening took leave of Her Majesty, on their setting out for this Kingdom.

On Thursday, Colonel Vereker, Member of Parliament for this City, arrived in Town from Dublin, where he landed on Friday last from Harrowgate.

The 18th century will terminate at the end, not the commencement of the approaching year. — January 1, 1801, immediately after midnight, is the proper beginning of the 19th century, according to the erroneous and vulgar computation — as since the actual period of the birth of Christ, 1803 years have already elapsed; the artificial Annus Domini being four years posterior in point of time to the epoch from which it takes its date.

MARRIED. This day at Castle-Connell, by the Rev. Richard Fitzgerald, the Rev. John Lloyd, to the amiable Miss Eliza Barclay.

DIED. On the 25th inst. at Rockfavage, Co. Roscommon, Robert Pepys Ormsby, Esq.
