

...ing vicinity to-morrow, but on the morning according to notice given by Gen. Moreau.
BUTTGARD, September 5. The following appears in our Gazette—"The appearance of an approaching peace are again renewed, the French troops which were marching from from Suabia, have returned to the quarters which they left a few days since, and the armistice is to be prolonged for some days."

BRAGUE, September 5. According to our expectation, should the war, contrary to expectation, be renewed, certain foreign powers will take a very important part in it. It is probable, under the present circumstances, that the notification of the cessation of the armistice on the part of the French will contribute greatly to hasten a peace.
BRANAU, September 6. The day before yesterday, in the morning, an officer accompanied by a trumpeter and four dragons, passed by here.
Krausfeld, where a small detachment of French hussars is yet stationed. At half past three in the evening he returned. He is said to have been the bearer of orders for prolonging the armistice to the 10th inst. On the 4th inst. the Bishop of Wurzburg quitted his residence, and he had caused half a year's salary to be paid to all persons employed in the public service.
On the 30th inst. he had published the following edictation:

The approach of a French army forces us, in due time, to quit our residence, to prevent unpleasant subjects, in case we should be taken prisoner, to purchase our liberty with heavy expense. By publishing this resolution, to express a fatherly heart, we add for their consolation that our Vicegerent, the Government of our country, and the Magistrates of our residence watch over their welfare. As for the rest, we refer to the loyal citizens of our residence, and they will behave as faithful, noble, and brave as they did on a similar occasion in 1796, and they will equally deserve the general confidence of their own and other countries, and the approbation of their Sovereign.

(Signed) "GEORGE CHARLES."

Tuesday last the Hon. Lieutenant-Colonel Ferral, who was wounded at Ferrol with the 24th Corps, was landed at Portsmouth, having returned to England for recovery.

Lieutenant-Colonel Plight, of his Majesty's 24th Corps, has just been appointed Adjutant General of the Channel fleet, and in consequence has taken post on board the Ville de Paris, the flagship of the Commander in Chief. How advantageous it would be to the service, and as a great incentive to that useful and valuable serving corps, to have attached to every certain number of field Officers!

Several British ships have been lately purchased by the Americans, and are now in the harbour in that port, among which is the Duquesne, a 24 gun, lately carried in there by her own crew; this ship is just ready for sea.
The vessel that has been sold for the benefit of the Frenchmen, and thirteen foreigners, who were mentioned in the advertisement, were personally captured and brought her into Brest, and for their gallantry, the French Government distinguished all their claim to the proceeds.
The vessel is cruising off Brest, it is likely the same with detention.

News from London arrived this morning, by the Lord Auckland packet in 37 days.
The papers by the mail contain no news of importance. There have been fine rains in the north and there is every appearance of good weather. A letter from Amsterdam received by the 1st of this mail, informs us, how truly we do need to decide that the Cabinet of Vienna, and the propositions of the Chief Consul at Vienna, has positively rejected them. The following is a copy of the letter:

"Amsterdam, Sept. 9.
The conclusion of a peace is very much desired here, as the conditions proposed by the Cabinet of Vienna, has positively rejected them.

the whole Magistracy of the Country, and no encouragement will be given to a continuance of disorder among the Populace, timidity or the disinclination of any Magistrate to perform his duty with promptitude and effect. From the example of the Capital, it may now be clearly seen that to attempt to reason with a misguided mob, is loss of time, and the certain means of increasing the public danger.—Strong measures alone are calculated to repress a Spirit of Insurrection, which we have some reason to believe is inflamed by the arts of the Jacobins—and to use the force for that purpose which the loyalty and patriotism of the most respectable part of the community to generally prefer, is now a duty of obedience to the commands of our Sovereign.

Courier-Office, 2 P. M.

We have just received Paris papers to the 17th instant. We have only time to state the substance of them. They contain a proclamation of Bonaparte to the armies about the renewal of hostilities, the letters of the Emperor, the preliminaries signed by Count St. Julien, and the refusal to ratify them. Some anxiety exists at Paris respecting the events which are to take place at Paris on Monday next, the Fete of the 14 Vendemiaire.
Hostilities had not commenced.

Yesterday arrived at Portsmouth, the Trent frigate, from Jamaica, with Admiral Sir Hyde Parker on board, who landed immediately on arrival.

Nine of the revenue cutters employed in the unsuccessful expedition against Ferrol, arrived yesterday morning at Portsmouth. They left the transport on the 11th inst. off Oporto, steering for Gibraltar, under convoy of the Courageux and Gibraltar. The remainder of the ships of the line and the greater part of the frigates left the transports at the same time as the revenue cutters, and joined Earl St. Vincent off Ushant.
Every letter received relative to this expedition against Ferrol strengthens our opinion that blame is imputable somewhere, and that a parliamentary investigation is absolutely necessary. We have heard many circumstances, which, for the present we shall decline publishing. It is said that there were two three-deckers, and several frigates and gun-boats, and 150 sail of merchantmen at Ferrol, when the attack was made.

At Gibraltar it is expected that the troops under Sir James Pakeney will be joined by a great part of the force under Sir Ralph Abercrombie.
The ulterior destination of the expedition remains a secret.

We are extremely sorry to announce the loss of the Stag frigate near Vigo. The crew were saved. Several transports belonging to the expedition have lost their anchors and cables.

Captain Winthrop, of the Stag frigate, is come home in the Role cutter.

By accounts received yesterday from Jersey, they entertain some apprehensions there of a visit from the French. In consequence, every necessary precaution was taking for a vigorous resistance. A fleet of armed vessels was ordered to assemble at St. Helen's on Thursday last, for the purpose of running over for the protection of Guernsey and Jersey against the meditated attack.

It has been officially announced to the College of Commerce at Stockholm, that the French Government have decreed that neutral vessels, which have been in an English port during their voyage, shall not be admitted into those of the Republic, but in case of extreme distress, from whence they must depart as soon as circumstances will admit.

A letter from Portsmouth, September 19, says, "By a person just arrived from Southampton, we hear that a very serious riot has taken place this day, on account of the high price of provisions."

The London Gazette of the 20th inst. contains an account of Lieut. McCullen, of the Marines, and 24 picked men of the Badger sloop, having cut out of La Hague, Le Victoire, privateer, of Boulogne, mounting 4 swivels, rows 24 oars, and Ord, were disbanded at Chantons.

The Equinox has been altered in this season, in this part of Ireland, with more irregular variations of weather than we recollect to have taken notice of.—On Wednesday the squalls from the N. W. succeeded by very heavy rain, were uncommonly tempestuous. The roofs of most of the houses in this City and its vicinity have suffered very considerably by the parset of a house in the English-town was shaken by the gale, that it was obliged to be taken down, with great risk to the lives of the persons employed, to prevent the danger that was to have been apprehended from its falling into the street or on the roof of the house.—A large Elm tree, which stood in the yard of the General Military Hospital on the North Strand, was overturned with so much violence against the wall where the Sentry-box stood, as to beat in several large masses of stone, we are happy to hear that the Sentinel escaped unhurt.—The Boats plying on the river have received considerable damage.

Thursday, the General Court-Martial assembled, and proceeded on the trial of John Quilly, charged with stealing a lamb, the property of Ellen M'Namara, on the night of the 2d instant—taking away the horses of John M'Namara a few nights before—being out at unseasonable hours—and threatening to have the said John M'Namara flogged for giving information against him.— This day, Mich. Houlihan, Ths. Houlihan, and John Molony, were tried for breaking into the house of Timothy Harrigan and flogging him; also for being out at unseasonable hours.—The sentence of the Court is, that Michael and Ths.
Houlihan, and John Molony, do receive 1000 lashes each, and to be transported for life.

Thursday night, a party of 5 or 6 villains, well armed, with their faces blackened, broke into the house of one Martin, near Eden-Vale, Co. Clare, and robbed him of 40 guineas in cash.

Yesterday morning, a woman, (whose husband sells old iron in a cellar in Nicholas-street,) was found hanging out of a beam, by a boy who went down to purchase an article in the above line; he immediately ran up and gave the alarm, when she was cut down by two men who came to his assistance: every necessary means being used she is in a fair way of recovery. The cause of her committing this rash act has not been assigned.

Same day, the Light Company of the Wexford Militia, commanded by Captain Hatton, arrived here on their way to Athlone.

This day, an officer and 40 men of the Clare Regiment, marched hence for Fedamore, in this County, to be stationed there till further orders.

MARRIED. Yesterday morning, Rich. Leske, Esq; Attorney, to the amiable Miss Mary Anne Byrne, daughter of John Byrne, of the City of Dublin, Esq.—A few days ago, in Ennis, — Langford, of Killcoffrigill, Co. Limerick, Esq; to Miss Spellissy, daughter of John Spellissy, Esq; of Ennis, M. D.

DIED. At Beechwood, near Nenagh, of a protracted and painful illness, Mrs. Toler, relict of Daniel Toler, Esq; the late virtuous, independent and incorruptible representative of the County of Tipperary, in three successive Parliamen-taries.—Truly might the paenegyric have said of this Lady, "that to all the grace, dignity, and elegant deportment of the most polished woman, were added the quickness of perception, promptitude of decision, judgment, fortitude and other noble characteristics of the rougher sex; possessing them in a superior degree, she sacrificed them in a manner peculiar to herself."—Last Friday, at Upton, co. Cork, John Minton, Esq;.
—On Thursday night, at Clondara, Co. Clare, Mr. Benjamin Ringford.
