On Thursday night last, some villains set fire to the House of John Ryan, of Kilmacogy, near whose laudable exertions, part of Ryan's house was saved. See Advertisement.

A man of the name of Patrick Macnemara, of Park, on the 1st of this month, reaped one of the finest crops of barley that ever was remembered in that neighbourhood, produced from the corn that shed last year, without the least preparation or ploughing or harrowing, and the new corn produced, is likewise remarkably large in the grain.

Fellow Citizens with this large and unexpected addition to our Markets,—to be sure we must lament the damp that it will throw on the fine or monopolizers.
