ion of Mr. (General Fox), the late in Chief in Ireland.

cellor of the Exchequer requested the ral to be more explicit, as he could not at he alluded to.

Berkeley explained, that his notice was cessary by the assertion of the Rt. Hon. himself, who said that the Commander early notice of the rebellion.

cellor of the Exchequer restated his ave been, that early in the day of the notice of the information received had icated to the Commander in Chief, ristendant Magistrate of the City of his statement was rendered necessary aid by a Right Hon. Gentleman proachable, as the discussion itself was prejudicial to the Civil Government of Berkeley still persisted in thinking that elation was implicated by the assertion; that such was also the opinion of the self, who has not received so early in-the conspiracy as had been said. cellor of the Exchequer denied that such thing; his expression was, that day, information was received by him,

Saturday night about 9 o'clock, Mr. Thomas Hayes, of Groody, in company with a neighbouring Farmer, both mounted on horseback, returning from the County of Clare, were attacked at the hill of Trough, by about ten men, after they had fought their passage through the first party, they were stopped by another gang, when, having a charge of money about him, Mr. Hayes and companion dismounted, left their horses behind, and escaped through the fields without further injury.

Saturday last an unfortunate Female was detected stealing out of the house of Mr. Peter Arthur, on Charlotte's Quay, a quantity of Furniture;—Sheriff Carroll being sent for, examined her, and on going to commit her to Gaol, she confessed that she had been guilty of several similar Thefts, for some time in this City, and the Sheriff was so fortunate as to recover a number of valuable Articles, stolen out of Miss Denovan's Boarding-School; out of Mr.
Fitz-Gerald, Attorney's house on George's-quay, Mrs. Ormsby's, Mrs. Ross Lewen's, &c. &c.

Saturday evening a woman disordered in mind, threw herself into the River, near Thomond-bridge, —at the instant she was sinking, a young Boy jumped in, and rescued her from an untimely death.

Last night, Denis Dugan, sailor, fell into the River at Torrance's Quay, and was unfortunately drowned.
