

The General Advertiser.

LIMERICK, MARCH 25, 1806.

The London Gazette of Tuesday night last contains his Majesty's grant to Lieut. Gen. Sir John Doyle, Lieutenant Governor of Guernsey, to bear certain honourable additions, together with supporters, to his Armorial Ensigns, in consideration of his faithful and zealous exertions in his Majesty's service on divers occasions, and particularly during the glorious operations of the British arms in Egypt.

The Gazette likewise contains the offer of a reward of 200*l.* for the apprehension of Lieutenant Geo. Rutherford, who stands charged with the murder of three seamen of his Majesty's ship Trident, while commander of that ship at Butcher's Island, near Bombay, in the East Indies, in March, 1801, and who escaped from the Salvador del Mundo, at Plymouth, on the 12th inst. by jumping overboard.

Mr. Carr, author of the Stranger in France, is preparing to publish a work under the title of the Stranger in Ireland.

Bonaparte has been making presents of shifts to ladies. Had his Imperial Majesty half his just reward, we should soon find him making shifts for himself.

A challenge is said to have been sent by an unsuccessful Candidate for a central county, against the more fortunate one, who has been elected.—The answer of the latter was, "that he did not feel disposed to let any opponent create a vacancy of his seat, in order to fill it himself, by the ridiculous exchange of a pistol shot!"

The Ladies' Sunday Concerts, by order of the Bishop of London, and a threatened prosecution from "The Society for the Suppression of Vice," are in future to be held on Mondays.

A flax-dresser, in Kirkealdy (Scotland) of the name of John Mason, lately died suddenly, and in extreme agony. From the circumstances attending his death, his relations caused the body to be opened, when a quantity of matter, like to arsenic, was found in his stomach. As his wife had co-habited with another man for some time past, suspicion naturally viewed them as the authors of this infernal deed. They immediately absconded, and they have not yet been apprehended.

When Napoleon talks of his ships being lost off Trafalgar in a tremendous storm, it reminds us of the French General, who, having suffered a severe defeat, wrote home, "that he was obliged to change his front!"

On Friday evening, the Criminal business for the County of Limerick terminated, when the following persons received sentence:—

John Cunnane, for the wilful murder of Timothy Meehan, at the fair of Dromin, (received sentence on Thursday evening) to be hanged on Saturday, and his body given for dissection.

Daniel Sheehy, for a burglary in the dwelling house of Daniel Hogan, to be hanged on the 11th of April.

Morgan Molony, Michael Molony, and Daniel Higgins, for having robbed Daniel Riordan, on the highway, to be hanged on the 21st of June.

John Cunnane's sentence was carried into execution on Saturday evening, at Gallows-Green, and his body afterwards lodged in the County Infirmary for dissection.

Sunday morning, the Hon. Solicitor General, and the Hon. Justice Mayne, Judges of Assize for the Munster Circuit, proceeded for Tralee; and opened their commissions for the County of Kerry, yesterday evening.

Last night, William Gallagher, was committed to the city gaol, charged with violently assaulting his brother-in-law, in consequence of which he expired this morning in the County Infirmary.

ASSIZE OF BREAD.

lb. oz. &c.

Embossed and faint he stood at bay,
The tears bedewed his face;
His knell being sounded Jack took say,
Thus ended such a chase,
As ne'er before was had in Clare;
Each paying a crown in turn,
We homeward hied to greet the fair,
Who sighed till our return,
From the "Hi ho chevy, &c.

The table set, for us prepared,
Each brother took his place;
Of the repast when we had shared,
We talked but of the chase:
Of leaps we made, of falls we got,
Till Sol illumed the sky
Then each was led unto his cot—
Still keeping up the cry—
Of "Hi ho chevy, &c.
