BY CHARLES WILLIAM JANSON, ESQ.

Late of the State of Rhode Island, Counsellor at Law.

The Author of this work was an Inhabitant of the United States upwards of 14 years; and his profession, as well as his many and extensive journeys in various parts of the Union, afforded him abundant opportunities of delineating the subjects of which he treats from attentive observation.—Unlike an ordinary traveller whose opinions are formed at first sight, he has been enabled, by a long residence in the country, to mature his ideas on men and manners, to compare and correct his conclusions, and to divest himself of the partiality and prejudice which too often influence a superficial observer.

The various articles are placed under appropriate heads, and notes are added by way of illustration. In the Songs, also, a new arrangement has been made, which, it is presumed, will make the whole pleasing and acceptable to every class of readers.
