stitu- the great mass of popular representation in Ireland, are decidedly in favour of the present Ministry, even by pressing into their ranks men who have either never, or only incidentally, voted with them.—“the Talents” are able; but to reckon upon thirty of this number, and upon a division, will feel a deficiency of at least half their calculation—few of the Irish Boroughs are in circumstances likely to produce a contest; but in those which have been contested the pre- dominance of the real friends of the Constitu- tion has been fully manifested: these have been—

Downpatrick, in which Mr. Ruthven, the protegé of Lady Downshire, and a supporter of the late Government, has been thrown out by Mr. Croker, a young Barrister of distinguished talents, who has secured his Election by avowing principles directly opposite to those of Mr. Ruthven.

Drogheda—Colonel Foster, the son of the Irish Chancellor of the Exchequer, in spite of the most violent efforts of the Romish Friars (who have established a monastery in that town, in direct defiance of the laws of the land), has defeated the late Member, Mr. M. Ogle.

University of Dublin—Mr. J. L. Foster, a nephew of the Chancellor of the Exchequer of Ireland, has succeeded, upon Protestant principles, against the late Member, whose conduct on the Roman Catholic question was more than equivocal.

Limerick City.—Colonel Vereker, the hero of Coloony, has overpowered every effort of a Roman Catholic faction to strike him from the representation.

Carrickfergus presents a struggle between the towns people and the influence of Lord Donegal, but which ever Candidate shall be successful, the Protestant establishment is sure of a friend.

Kilkenny will be represented by one of the Ormond Family.

Belfast, Inniskillen, Athlone, Dungarvan, Armagh, Carlow, Cashel, Clonmell, Bandon, Rosse, Youghal, Dundalk, Wexford, and Coleraine, have already returned friends of the present Ministry; Galway and Ennis are doubtful; and Portarlington by no means decided.

We infer the above verbatim from a London Newspaper called the SUN, which shews the glaring misrepresentations made of this country! When such statements are suffered to pass without contradiction, and swallowed by the credulous, what must be thought of the state of parties in this kingdom? All who are in the slightest degree acquainted with the constitution of this city, well know, that a thought of the least opposition in the last election of its member did not occur, and that the form of proposing the Candidate, and making the return was all that was necessary to finish the city election. How such barefaced falsehood could find its way into a paper is surprising, unless foisted on the Printer by some of those fire-brands who wish to set Ireland in a conflagration in order to put themselves again into power by the misfortunes of their country.

ENGLISH MONTHLY AGRICULTURAL REPORT.

The warm weather which succeeded the heavy rains in the early part of the month, has much improved the growth and appearance of Wheat, which stood well, and looks very promising. The spring corn and the grass seeds lately sown, are equally thriving; and those crops which were top dressed in the spring grow very fast. In the fens, where the farmers were much impeded by the rains their spring sowing is finished; and the grain, already above ground, looks well. Some winter tares, on rich warm lands, have been already cut, and in most situations are nearly ready for the scythe.—The average price of Wheat throughout England and Wales, is 75s. 11d.; Barley 38s.; Oats 27s. 10d.

The young Clovers are equally forward, and afford excellent keep for feeding Sheep, Ewes, and Lambs. The turnips are generally in a state of great forwardness, and many acres are already sown with the Swedish sort. Those lands, both open and inclosed, which are to be fallowed for wheat, are every where broken up. The setting of Potatoes has this spring been very general and much land finished.

The Meadows, though somewhat late, begin to grow fast, and the Pastures in general afford a full bite to dairy and feeding stock, which have been for some time turned out; and owing to the late rapid improvements in the Pastures and artificial Grasses, a great demand has been made for all kinds of live stock, which have considerably advanced in value, at the late fairs.—In Smithfield Market, Beef fetches from 4s. 8d. to 5s. 8d.; Mutton from 5s. to 5s. 8d.; Pork 4s. 8d. to 5s. 8d.

Young fresh Horses, either for the collar or saddle, were never at this season, dearer, or more in request. Sows and Pigs, and small Stores, find a quick sale, being much wanted.

The Orchards in the Inland and Fen Districts looked this spring beautiful, a fine blow, and very promising. The Gardens, in general, are equally good, shewing a profusion of Berry Fruit.

BANKRUPT.—James Maginnis, of Ranelagh, in the co. of Dublin, Brewer, to surrender on the 15th and 16th June inst. and 16th July next.

Dublin.

DEATHS.—At Corbally, near Fethard, Mrs. Bradshaw, wife of William Bradshaw, Esq. of said place.—In Thurles, Denis O'Brien, Esq. of that town.—In Londonderry, W. Patterson, Esq. M. D.—Friday se'nnight, at his house at Edmonton, in Lincolnshire, England, Henry Short, Esq. formerly Lieutenant-Colonel of the Royal Dragoons.—Last Friday evening, in Thomas-street, most deservedly lamented, William Bourke, Esq. late of Pallace, co. Tipperary; a gentleman, who, thro' a long and well-spent life, was respected and esteemed by all.
