The tumult was then increasing, when, the timely interference of the magistrates and the officers of the garrison, with strong pickets, who cleared the streets, and kept the different regiments in their barracks, prevented any ill-consequence.
A few days ago, John Boyce Pierce, esq.'s neat lodge at Oughterade, co. Galway, was accidentally consumed to ashes.

of Friends the business was adjusted, without any

On Wednesday, just as his Majesty's carriage arrived at the Queen's Palace, a woman, decently dressed, attempted to force her way into the palace after his Majesty. Macmanus, Townsend, and Sayers, who were in attendance, seized her, and she proved to be the same woman whom Sayers apprehended a few weeks since under similar circumstances. She was extremely violent, and said she was sent by the Almighty too see the king, who was a very good sort of a man if they would let him alone. She had a petition and a pamphlet, which she wanted to give the king.— The officers took her to the Secretary of State's office. Her name is Margaret Flett, and she lives in Star-court, Nightingale-lane, Wapping.

Corn Market, Mark-lane, July 2.—Wheat for to-day's Market is in tolerable supply:—fine samples fully maintain their prices, and ordinary rather lower. Barley in short supply at about 2s. per quarter advance—Malt likewise. White Pease are much in demand, but none here; and will be dearer—Grey are higher—Beans also.

DUBLIN—JULY 11.

The Court of Common Pleas closed on Wednesday last, having terminated the sittings after term, for the hearing of trials, at Nisi Prius causes.— The Court of King's Bench, it is expected, will close to-morrow; and the Exchequer will sit for ensuing year.

The Lord Chancellor has signified his intention of continuing to transact the public business in the

The Persons lately brought here from England under a charge of having been found in his Majesty's dominions in violation of the Banishment Act, are, it is said, in Kilmainham Gaol; and such is the rigour of their confinement, that no person, their nearest relatives, nor even their fellow prisoners are suffered to see them.—Their names have not yet transpired.

The Charitable Stores of Stillorgan Parish, held in Newtown-Park Avenue, were broken open on Wednesday night, by some villains as yet unknown, and goods amounting to about 60*l.* taken thereout, the property of the Rev. Mr. Read and the Subscribers to this excellent institution. An handsome reward has been offered for the discovery of the perpetrators, and it is sincerely hoped they will meet the punishment they deserve.

We are happy to find that Lords Moita and Holland have again taken up, and brought before the Imperial Parliament, the cause of the unhappy and unfortunate confined debtors; sad and repeated instances of the misery of that description of persons have so frequently presented themselves to view, as to shew the fallacy of incarcerating in a dungeon the person of the debtor, who neither has, nor even can, while detained in custody, have the means of paying his creditor; the wisdom of the Legislature, at the same time, will pause before it changes the long established laws of the land; and will, we trust, by the assistance of some of those characters, who are ornaments of this enlightned age, be enabled to frame some measure upon the law of debtor and creditor which will protect both, and at the same time, temper justice with mercy.
