

No less than forty-seven Watches were stolen the other day, from a shop in London, without the detection of the robber, or knowing precisely at what hour the theft was committed. Doubtless, in such a robbery, the thief took care that his depredations was well timed.

At Sea Point in addition to the numerous party there—the following are among the last month's arrivals.—Right Hon. Countess Dowager Belmore Hon. Miss Callwell, Sir Richard and Lady Waller, Sir Richard and Lady M. Harding, Sir Wm. Johnston, Col. and Mrs. Magrath, Mr. and Mrs. Carey, Mrs. Hackett, Mr. and Mrs. O'Dwyer, Mr. Ryan, the Miss Roches, Messrs. Buddart, Moore, Hume, Capt. Everard from Monte Video, Hastings, Smith, &c. &c. &c.

Arrivals from Holyhead.

Per Montrose, Aug. 31.—Colonel Vereker; Capt. J. Kelly; Capt. Richardson, R. N.; Rev. Mr. Duddell; Messrs. Fitzgerald, Hill, Darley; Farrell, and Trotter.

Eng. Stocks. 3 per ct. cons. (Aug. 29) 69 $\frac{1}{4}$
Irish Stocks. G. Deb. 5 per ct. (Sept. 2) 95
Exch. Dublin on London (Sept. 2) 9 $\frac{1}{4}$

The General Advertiser.

LIMERICK, SEPTEMBER 4.

On Wednesday night, as Mr. Kearney, of the house of Kearney and Carroll, of this city, and Mr. Long, late of Dublin, were returning from Mr. O'Shea's, of Prospect, they were attacked by a number of ruffians in arms, at nearly the same place, the Lord Bishop and the other gentlemen were lately robbed on their way from Mount Shannon—Mr. Kearney seemed to have an immediate presentiment of the circumstance, as he had only just suggested to Mr. Long the necessity there was for getting on quickly, when the ruffians rushed out, and firing a volley, one of their shots took effect in Mr. Kearney's left arm, on which his horse got restive and threw him, Mr. Long happened to escape—we are sorry to find Mr. K.'s wounded arm was broken in the fall—the villains seemed sorry on observing his situation—a watch and some small change were the only spoil this murderous gang had to boast of, after attempting the life of a valuable member of society—violating the injured laws of their country, and putting a halter about their own necks.—We again repeat there never was a greater necessity for an active police—rewards, it appears, are not sufficiently adequate—private measures—a general search in the neighbourhood—and within a few miles around, are what this second daring outrage instantly requires. Satisfied we are that these villains are lurking some where convenient, and that several of the lower order must know it—the magistrates are therefore called on to exercise the duties they had undertaken, and which they are bound to do—and not by a criminal apathy eruce an indifference to the lives and safety of every gentleman, whom either business or inclination may induce to ride out.

We are glad to find Mr. Kearney is somewhat better this day, (tho' the ball is not yet extracted) as, from his general character, his situation yesterday created a considerable degree of public feeling.

Last Sunday Lieutenant-General Floyd, arrived in Cork to assume the command of that district.

Tuesday morning, the American ship Romco, arrived at Cork harbour in 17 days from Cadiz.—The master reports that the day before he sailed, he was informed by an English merchant at Cadiz, that advices had been there received of the recapture of Buenos Ayres by the British forces.

We understand that a dispute occurred on Monday last, in Killarney, between two of the Miners number. They are of white straw, of various fashions, some large and flat, and even those which are tied at the sides, sit wide from the cheeks and forehead. The girls of fifteen are still at open war with the women of a certain age. At thirty years they say, one ought to have no pretensions to dress, one ought to shine no longer in the concert, and figure at the ball. These sentiments have induced the young ladies to adopt fashions that only suit themselves, and of this number are the robes which accurately exhibit the shape from the waste downwards, like a pair of drawers.—The Ladies of 30 years, however, whom experience has endowed with address, are not to be disconcerted so easily. They wear robes that shew the shape of the limbs, they dance and they sing. Since precious or fancy stones are become the favourite ornaments of these ladies, gold is, as it were, excluded from all jewellery; and to string pearls, to the agates in a bunch, and join amber cut into pieces, a silk cord is preferred to the richest chain of gold. The mounting of a diamond was never more light; and as to the other stones, less precious and less durable, the circles which adorn them, the setting which sustains them, all that is suppressed. They pierce the agate, the amethyst, or the cornelian, in the plainest possible manner, and thus suspend them times by a thread of silk or gold, in ear-rings or in necklaces.—The object is to mix simplicity with ornaments the most costly and luxurious. About six months ago coloured stockings were inadmissible among our petits maitres—flesh colour alone were excepted. At the present day, a stocking of the same colour as the pantaloons, is the very pink of fashion.

BIRTH.

Wednesday morning, at the Chanter-house, the lady of the Rev. W. Hughes, of a son.

MARRIAGES.

On Saturday last, by special licence, by the Rev. Mr. Palmér, at her father's house, John Scott, jun. Esq. of Cahircon, in the co. Clare, to Miss Creaghe, daughter of James Creaghe, of Cahirbane, in said co. Esq.

Last night, Mr. Thos. O'Regan, of Mungret-street, grocer, to Miss Sophia O'Halloran, daughter to the late Thady O'Halloran, Esq. of Ballycunnane, co. Clare.

DEATHS.

Monday morning, in Strand-street, Tralee, Mrs. Blennerhassett, wife of John (Henry) Blennerhassett, Esq.—Her various virtues, her meek and courteous manners—in short her faultless life; all, as they recommend her to the pure regard of an enlarged and respectable circle of relations and friends, have secured to her name, amongst them, the well-merited and un fading tribute of respectful recollection:—But most severely, and beyond expression, must her death be felt by a young, much-pitied offspring, who, with tender solicitude, she early instructed in 'the way they should go.'

On Monday se'nnight, at Tunbridge Well, England, after a long and painful illness, Mrs. Beresford, wife of the Hon. and Rev. the Archbishop of Tuam, and mother to Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Sewell, Mrs. Armstrong Mrs. Thos. Hope, and Miss Frances, unmarried; she has also left two sons, clergymen; the youngest married to a daughter of the Earl of Tankerville. This lady was second daughter of the late John Fitzbibbon, Esq. and sister to the Earl of Clare, Mrs. Grove, late Mrs. Jeffreys, and Mrs. Trant, mother to Lady Donally. Mrs. Beresford was a woman of very strong mind, highly improved by education; her manner commanding but pleasing, and every arrangement in her house and family bespoke her good sense; it might be considered as a little state, with an excellent dictator at its head, where magnificence and economy were most happily blended. Mrs. Beresford was 44 years a wife, and a most interesting example of conjugal affection; her daughters were all married at very early ages, and have proved the most amiable of wives and mothers, worthy of the domestic and virtuous habits they were educated in.—She will be long regretted by her family and friends.

At Cheltenham, England, Miles M'Donnell, Esq. of Clonmore, co. Mayo.

LIMERICK MARKET PRICES.

	s.	d.	s.	d.
Wheat, —————	1	11 $\frac{1}{2}$	to	2	0
Oats, —————	0	11	to	0	11 $\frac{1}{2}$
English Barley, ———	0	9 $\frac{1}{2}$	to	0	10 $\frac{1}{2}$
Bere, —————	0	9	to	0	0
Potatoes, —————	0	3 $\frac{1}{2}$	to	0	4
Fresh Butter, ————	1	6	to	1	8
Mould Candles (in Boxes)	0	4	to	0	0
Dipped ditto, ————	0	4	to	0	0
Beef, —————	0	5	to	0	6 $\frac{1}{2}$
Mutton, —————	0	4 $\frac{1}{2}$	to	0	6 $\frac{1}{2}$
Flour, —————	25	0	to	28	0

Price of Rapeseed . . . 20s. per barrel, of 16 stone.

NEW BUTTER.

In Tubs . . . . . 96s. . . 92s. . . 86s. . . 78s.
 Firkins, . . . . . 98s. . . 94s. . . 88s. . . 80s.

A well-conducted lad would be taken as an APPRENTICE to the Printing Business, at the Office of this Paper. Sept. 4, 1807.

NEW MUSIC & MUSICAL.

JUST arrived to JAMES CORBETT, Patrick-street, Limerick, a number of PIANO FORTES of different kinds &c. from the Houses of Clementi and Wilkinson, London.

CORBETT respectfully informs of this Country, they will find an extensive collection of Musical &c. as ever was offered for Sale in the

He, as usual, improves the trade of Fortes imported by him, and which already given them so decided a preference all Judges who have heard them.

Grand and Square Piano Fortes, hired out by the Month, Quillets, correctly repaired and tuned.

An Apprentice Limerick, Patrick-street.

3

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament, in the 1st year of the present Majesty, That no Person should fish for Salmon in the River Shannon, between the 1st and 15th day of February, or carry on any Instrument whatsoever, by which kind of Fish may be taken (the Fish accepted).—And if any Person should offend being thereof convicted the testimony of any one credible Person, some one Justice of the Peace, the offence shall be committed, who Peace is hereby empowered and the penalty of 20 $\frac{1}{2}$  shall for ever made use of by such offenders; the warrant of such Justice, by which goods, and to be paid to inform no sufficient distress can be found, like warrant be committed to the main without bail or main, prior to forfeiture shall in the meantime be

Now, we THOMAS and JOHN given to us, as holders of the Law strictly enforce said recited Act of two Guineas to any Person who upon, any Person offending against pointed the following Persons and the River.

- William Strick,
- Mathew Crow,
- P. Carroll,
- John O'Brien,
- John Collins,

TO BE SOLD.

ON FINES OR OTHERWISE Pursuant to the Trusts in and

THE following FREEHOLD INTERESTS being the only of Mr. Martin Arthur, viz.—One or thereabout—Salt House, Gun Store and Enclosures, Fishtown &c. The above Denominations are in The large Concerns in Munster an unexpired term of 100 years contiguous to the New Market Stores.—The Tan-Yard Concern The large and commodious Store Field at John's-Gate.

A large quantity of well improved Machinery for a Bleach Mill, & the Household Furniture in Donegal time the whole Stock of LEATH

Written Proposals to J. O'REGAN, Esq. who is empowered to execute Conveyances of the above, and who will explain each circumstance.

J. KEARNEY