

At a general meeting of the Governesses of the Protestant Female Orphan School, the 16th of Oct. 1807.—It appeared, from the statement of the Treasurer's account, that the balance in hand amounted only to sl. 18s. 0½d. a sum totally inadequate to the support of the school, to the 28th day of February next, on which day the subscriptions for the next year will become due: in order to supply the deficiency, the Governesses deem a PUBLIC BALL the most eligible mode. They have therefore resolved that a Ball shall be given on Monday Evening, the 26th Inst. when, it is requested, that no private Party shall interfere.—Tickets at 3s. 9½d. each, to be had from any of the Governesses, and from the Treasurers, Messrs. Maunsells and Kennedy. Doors will be open at 8, and Dancing commence at 9 o'clock. Colonel Blake has obligingly offered the Galway Band, which will attend that night.

From the submission of country prints to the views of predominant aristocracy in their neighbourhood, we are deprived of publicly knowing the Corporation squabbles in Limerick. Mr. Pitt with a becoming spirit has begun his operation, investigating some abuses in that department, but what they are, or what he intends to follow in the enquiry, we are totally ignorant of, as the papers give no farther elucidation, than Mr. Pitt's second advertisement, which mentions his being arrested at the suit of Mr. P. Smyth, and says he was not indebted to that person, one shilling, and calls the arrest an outrage. We must suspend all animadversions on the affair, until we receive private information, that may put us fully in possession of the subject. We have only to deplore the fallen state of the Press in Limerick, which remains silent—criminally silent, when the rights and privileges are at issue, and we regret that he has not its support in a cause of such honor and importance.—Cork Southern Reporter, October 17.

We give the above extract from an adherence to that principle on which our paper shall ever be conducted—to communicate every publication connected with; or glancing at, the interest of our fellow-citizens—from this even a charge, involving much personal matter, shall never induce us to deviate. As far as relates to us we stand above this indiscriminate attack; whenever the interest of the public required the aid of pointed observation, we did not place our opinions in an opposite balance, nor evince by a criminal apathy an indifference to their claims on the constitution.—We now should be equally culpable, if we anticipated by crude observation, a subject intended for delicate and serious discussion; neither the sharpness of ill-judged zeal, nor the warmth of even more generous feelings, shall induce us to relinquish "this even tenor of our way."

Mr. Pitt's address seems fully explicit as to its objects—had the Meeting of yesterday taken place, we are assured he would give them in detail the reasons that prevented that meeting; we are equally informed, Mr. Pitt will explain when he next meets his fellow-citizens, (see advertisement), and the result of that meeting our readers may rely on having from us.

Yesterday, Kilner Brasier, Esq. Mayor, seized a carcass of murren beef, from a butcher in the old market, which was offered for sale—he had it immediately thrown into the river.

Sunday night last, in consequence of private information, Edward Croker, Esq. with a party of the 26th regt. proceeded to the house of Mich. M'Namara, near Fedamore,—when they arrived at the place, one of M'Namara's sons hearing the noise outside, got out of bed, and endeavouring to make his escape, was, we are informed, shot through the body by one of the soldiers.

About 2 o'clock on Saturday morning, the house of John Stone, in Denmark-st. was discovered on calumnies to their own county and spared ours.— We would be extremely sorry that the most trivial act of insubordination should disgrace this county; or even that it should be so thought. The King of the Forest, at one time, issued a proclamation ordering every horned subject to quit the realm. The Fox amongst the rest took his bag and baggage. On being told that the decree did not extend to him as having a smooth forehead, he, with his usual shrewdness, replied—"but what if his Majesty thought I had horns."—Ibid.

Our Tralee correspondent has, this moment, favoured us with the following account:—That, pursuant to a requisition from the High Sheriff of the County Kerry, a meeting of the freeholders had taken place in the Court-house of Tralee, on Saturday last, concerning the Abolition of Tythes, when Resolutions were adopted, and a Petition to that effect was framed, and handed to the Knight of Kerry, to be by him presented to the Imperial Parliament. We also have to notice that the Knight has distinguished himself in a most splendid and appropriate speech, which we are sorry our limits preclude us from giving.

JOHN O'CALLAGHAN, Esq. High Sheriff, in the C

THE following Resolutions on the Motion of WILL. FITZGERALD, Esq. and seconded by GEO. STACKPOOLE, Esq. were unanimously adopted:

RESOLVED—That the Grievances resulting from the present System of Tithes in Ireland are so manifest, and the Burden by them imposed upon the Labouring Classes of the County so oppressive, that it becomes our duty to declare the necessity of a Petition being submitted to Parliament, praying the substitution of some Equivalent, but less on Provision for the Ministers of the Established Church. It being also our decided conviction that there is no other way which the Legislature can recur, which will so essentially contribute to promote the Industry, and to preserve the Peace of this part of the United Kingdom, none which more strongly deserve the Gratitude, and conciliate the Affection of its People.

RESOLVED—That a Committee consisting of the High Sheriff, William Fitzgerald, George Stackpoole, Edward O'Neil Thomas Browne, Robert Westropp, and Walter A. Esqrs. be appointed, and that they do prepare a Petition submitted to Parliament, founded on the Basis of the preceding Resolution.
