

sizes of Clonmel, and prevailed upon him to enter bail to surrender his person to the Sheriff before the expiration of the return of said writs.

Mr. Denny, notwithstanding, forgot his engagement, and proceeded to the county of Fermanagh, to avoid his creditors. There he was induced to charge the management of his affairs to a Mr. Hall, to whom he gave an assignment of his property, for the purpose principally of discharging his debts, many of which Mr. Hall did liquidate to screen him from the inconvenience of law proceedings, Mr. Denny being tenant for life, Mr. Hall thought it expedient for his own safety to have that life insured,

He afterwards received the amount of the insurance, and it was suspected that the amount of the two executions alluded to were included in the insurance. In Easter Term of the same year, the plaintiff was required to discharge his bail, by surrendering the body of Mr. Denny, in consequence of which he applied to the Attorney concerned for Mrs. Fitzhenry for indulgence, who gratified him, on condition of passing his own security for the debt. The plaintiff also accepted and regularly paid two bills for the amount of Howley's demand. The plaintiff wrote several times to Mr. Denny on the business, but to no effect, and was compelled in the Christmas vacation to issue a writ of Capeas quo Minus against him, directed to the Sheriff of the Co. Fermanagh, marked for the sum of 13*l.* 18*s.* 5*d.* being amount with the interest of Mr. Howley's debt. In January 1806, the Sub-Sheriff executed this writ on Mr. Denny, notwithstanding which, at the latter end of Hillary Term he filed the same with a return of Non Est Investus. The plaintiff gave the writ to a Mr. Knipe, an Attorney, to have it executed, who sent it to a Mr. Corry, an Attorney of Newtown Butler, in the same county; Corry, it would appear, gave the writ to a man who afterwards enlisted in the Louth militia. A series of circumstances intervened to lay ground for the present proceeding against the Sub-Sheriff, for having omitted to execute the writ, notwithstanding the offers of the Bailiff to shew him the person of Mr. Denny, who died, the February following under the pressure of extreme embarrassment, having no personal fortune, but leaving an infant son, who succeeded to his estate, and left the plaintiff without any means of immediate security for the debts he secured and paid on account of the deceased.—The plaintiff thus situated resorted to the High Sheriff for redress, against whom he issued a writ of latitat, to commence an action against him for a false return.—The High Sheriff's caused an appearance to be entered, and plaintiff filed his declaration in Trinity Term, 1806. Subsequent proceedings to induce delay on the part of the defendant, respecting this trial, were also detailed, too technical and tedious for our limits—The defence was marked with the same characteristics, beside a melancholy one respecting the low state to which Mr. Denny was reduced, a gentleman of high birth and most respectable connexions, a collateral descendant from Sir Anthony Denny, one of the executors to the last will and testament of that Monarch, to whom the Reformation might be traced.—Verdict for the plaintiff with costs.

*Prevention is the better cure :
So says the proverb, and 'tis sure.*

The great rule of education is to give a proper bias to the mind and a right government of the passions. How the end is generally answered by the means it is not our business now to enquire; but this we are sure of, that those who cannot support the expence of Private Tutors or of Public Schools, have at least the means of furnishing themselves with excellent helps in forming the manners, and, what is more essential still, preserving the MORALS and HEALTH of their Offspring.

and Commander-in-Chief of the Cape of Good Hope; George, Commissioner of the Navy at Portsmouth; and Edward, a Clergyman, near Reading. Also two daughters, viz. Lady Elizabeth Whitebread and Lady Hannah Bettesworth. His Lordship is succeeded in his titles and estates by Viscount Howick, now Earl Grey.

The cases of the unfortunate Mr. Bullock, and Gilson, for the crime of Arson, were argued in the Exchequer Chamber, London, before the Judges, on Saturday the 14th; but as no persons were admitted to be present but the parties concerned, the issue is yet unknown.

From an American Paper.—"This is to acquaint the public, that I will pay no debts my wife, Mary Aire, may contract, as she broke from her moorings, and was seen in tow with a young fellow when I was at sea. "JOHN AIRE."

It is a singular circumstance, that, at the late cattle shew in the county of Cork, there was no claimant for the premium for the best native Irish Bull.

Clonmel, Nov. 18.—The fact of the battered gunpowder, we are informed, is as this:—A man of unimpeachable character in Caher, had been years in the habit of buying up old lead, brass, &c. for a Founder in Waterford, and amongst other articles in this line, had (beyond doubt incautiously,) purchased some battered and other bullets from the the military. A cask, containing these, and other articles of broken lead, brass, &c. having burst into the street, the man was taken up; and, on being brought to a very strict and adequate inquiry, his innocence appearing manifest, he was discharge—and so ends the story of the battered gunpowder.—Herald.
