

The learned Judge gave a concise charge, recognizing an unquestionable point of law, and deducing an inference from the defendant's letter of vindication, that he proved himself the dupe who laid himself open to this action, while other parsons more cautious perceived the snare that was laid for them.

The Jury found a verdict for the defendant with costs.

LIMERICK—DECEMBER 15, 1807.

AN ENSIGNCY

For a Young Gentleman who can be well recommended, in the English Militia, for 60 Guineas.

Letters (post paid) addressed to A. B. at the Office of this Paper, will be attended to. Dec. 11, 1807.

Amongst the numerous public charitable institutions, which render these countries conspicuous among the nations, and which whilst they stand as a lasting record of our national benignity and munificence, reduce the sum of human misery, and alleviate the sufferings and miseries of our fellow-creatures—we are happy to announce a new institution, which by its having for its object the cure of the most dreadful of human maladies, and by its being the first and only institution of the kind, we believe, in this kingdom, claims in a pre-eminent degree the attention and support of the humane and the benevolent.—This institution is a Cancer Hospital, about to be established in Dublin, which doubtless will prove an asylum to many unhappy creatures, who must otherwise pine under the slow but inevitable progress of that direful complaint; and who will thus be rescued from the most deplorable of all situations—that of absolute despair.

PUBLIC THANKS.—The Directors of St. John's Charity School, with unspeakable gratitude, return their most sincere and fervent thanks to the Rev. Mr. P. Hogan, for his excellent Sermon on Sunday last, to advocate the claims of nearly one hundred poor orphans; to the Rt. Worshipful the Mayor of this city, the High Sheriff of this county, General Michel, Col. Brooke, Major Osborne, and Thomas Maunsell, Esq. who collected; to all the musical gentlemen, who so ably and so successfully co-operated in the glorious cause; and to all our numerous, respectable, and most benevolent Protestant brethren, who so liberally and so charitably contributed to the cause of these orphans, which is certainly the cause of God and of our country—they are, in the pathetic language of Job, truly "the Fathers of the Poor." The amount of the collections, and the donations received and expected, will appear next post. Benefactions from such as could not attend will be received by any of the collectors, Doctor Young, Rev. Archdeacon Hill, &c. &c.

On the 3d inst. a new silver coinage for this country, commenced in the Tower of London. We have not heard what relative value it is to be of.

Clonmel, Dec. 10.—On Sunday last a serjeant's party of the dragoons from this town, having arrived, by appointment, at the Finger Post on the Clogheen road, at the turn towards Knocklofty and Newcastle Bridge, between nine and ten at night, they were met by the Earl of Donoughmore on horse-back, who conducted them through the town of Ardhanan, by Carrighatagha, and Ballybrado, to the neighbourhood of Ballylooby, where a large body of miscreants had assembled in arms some time since, and by whom the house of Mr. William Lane and other houses had been plundered of arms, and other outrages committed. Some houses were searched for two of the persons against whom his lordship had received information upon oath as ringleaders in these disgraceful proceedings, but neither of these ruffians was found at home, and it is more than probable that they were both at the very moment employed, in company with others of their associates, in breaking into the house of Mr. J. Miles, in the neighbourhood of Ardhanan, in search of arms; such outrage having been committed on that night by four men, two of them armed with blunderbusses, at the very time when the dragoons were upon their march between Ardhanan and Ballylooby. His lordship and the party returned by the way of Cahir—the dragoons did not reach their barrack till Monday morning, at four o'clock.

Wexford, Dec. 10.—Tuesday, the Liberty, of this port, bound to Dublin, with malt and barley, was driven on the South Tongue. The crew are saved, but the vessel and cargo it is feared will be lost.
