

DUBLIN, DECEMBER 18.

day the 11th of January next, is appointed for the wedding of the infant Daughter of her Grace the Duchess of Richmond, which is to take place at the same time. The ceremony is to be performed with splendour, and her Grace will give a grand Ball on the occasion—upwards of 300 personages of distinction have been invited.

The Duke and Duchess of Richmond, it is said, are to be at the Christmas at Pakenhall, co. Westmeath, and the Duchess of Gort is expected in Dublin, and is to be of the party.

Some days ago, a gentleman in Belfast, having put lime into some empty barrels in his yard, and the tide rose in the night-time, wetted which set the barrels on fire, and communicated to his stores, but was fortunately discovered and extinguished before it had done any material damage.

The neighbouring mountains of the counties of Dub- Wicklow which appear from this city, are now covered with snow, where there has been a considerable fall, though very little has yet been experienced.

Due to the long continuance of adverse weather, the mails from Portpatrick became due at Donaghadee yesterday morning.

Yesterday evening last information was given at the police-office of the intention of a gang of robbers to commit a burglary and robbery, at a house in the vicinity of Rosbuck, to which place Major Sirr dispatched a party of nine of the police officers to await the arrival and give them a suitable reception. On their arrival for the purpose, they stopped a gentleman from that neighbourhood, whom they robbed of a bag containing 18 guineas, and his gold watch, which an alarm being given, they were deterred from trying into effect their intended purpose against the man, and have since, we understand, transferred their operations to the northern outlets of the city. The term of the City College, Term ended on Saturday last.
