

orders... until... executed... from... French... merchants... of Na... against... hand... of... e... ports... be gari...
dated... fall of...
utter... da, and... Nothing... e yet to... ss, and... increase... is safe... making a... least to... d Wel... make an...
ir route... cre they... eastern... account... umber of... the Por...
37,000... 7,123... -5,753... 2,267... 4,800... 4,592... 52,243... 30,000...
142,608... dia Regt... n. Court... his com... y of, and... albrigon... noted rob... h his feet... ennedy, a... n. They... mingham... sturday to... disclosing... his affairs... Connell's... of Union... d page... which we... at import... n, that he... have been... end—that... or afflicted... es of our... to desert... source of... sioned by... resses and... an enemy... battle has... rushed by... avowedly... omen and... ced their... despoiler... t precious... ention be... ch other... e Roman... gainst his... s: it was... ther, that... applause... very ex... d twenty... seven... ntry was... ent, what... dred and... members... grity, di... sentative... nothing... composed... concerns... than 20... name—... of James... Martin... remaining... ? What... not repre... dly. She... nistration... a perfect... ances. I... ngland—... ey would... ing pros... th of the... ve been... the fact—... gious per... Growing... norant of... Ivernois... merite of... e country... he speech... ner main... ealth and... the state... eories. I... who has... reasonable... ally ac... frauded of

to the present Solicitor General, Mr. Bushe, and to that excellent patriot, Mr. Plunket.—Did not that sound lawyer and excellent man say, the measure was unexampled—a strong measure—was a flagrant injustice to Ireland?—If such a measure was at that period a crime, shall we be now told, that crimes, like wine, grow better for growing old, and that after ten years they are mollified into innocence?—It is a duty that every man owes to his family, to his country, I would almost say, to his GOD, to give his efforts and his energies towards a Repeal of that abominable Act of Union. Where is the man that the sacred name of Ireland does not strike to the heart? Shew the man to whom the name of Ireland is not dear. To you, Sir James Riddell, I need not apply. You have exhibited to your fellow-citizens what an Irishman can feel.—[Loud Applauses.] Dear to every man is, or ought to be, the sacred name of country—the dear name of Ireland. Where is the man, that does not feel in his heart, a filial patriotism, (if the phrase is allowable) whenever the name of his country is mentioned? In order to redress the grievances brought upon us by the Union, let us petition our gracious King, to repeal that destructive Act. We only desire to be governed by him and an Irish Parliament. Why should we doubt our request would be granted to us? Why should we despair of success? Why should we imagine the prayer of our Petition to our most Gracious Sovereign would be unsuccessful? Can we expect that the Act of Union would be repealed unless we petitioned our Sovereign for that purpose, and set forth the real state of our country, and the dangers that threaten our trade and commerce? These are the only grounds on which we seek a repeal of that Act: under these circumstances you can have no apprehensions that the Act of Union will not be repealed—by the repeal of that law we should have our Parliament in Ireland as heretofore, and all domestic dissensions in this country will be crushed for ever—all animosities and religious distinctions which have unfortunately subsisted among us will be obliterated. If the present obnoxious Statute be repealed, all differences between Roman Catholics and Protestants will be amalgamated and adjusted, all those infernal distinctions and odious recriminations will be banished, and universal philanthropy subsist among us. Mr. Sheriff, I am not used to preach what I would not practice; I believe no man suspects me to be influenced by any party, I will not call any man, on account of his being a Protestant or a Roman Catholic, my enemy I rest upon the love of my country, the welfare of my country I take as my guide and director. I never should have said one word on the subject of the Repeal of the Act of Union, if I was not convinced in my conscience that the repeal of that act would be attended with the most salutary advantages to Ireland. I contend that the Roman Catholics shall not be driven from the benefits that may result from a Catholic Emancipation resulting from an Irish Parliament, I do not think that an Irish Parliament will do every thing for us; I speak this from feelings of gratitude. Let me suppose I was in treaty with Mr. Perceval, I would say, let the Act of Union be Repealed, and let the Penal Law subsist for ever—I would, so help me GOD, give up all the points of contention relative to the Penal Laws against the Roman Catholics, to secure a Repeal of the Act of Union. Sir, I speak the language of my heart, I am not a party man; I am a friend to Irishmen of every description; I would sacrifice upon the altar of my country all the claims of Roman Catholics to emancipation, so that we could obtain a Repeal of the Law of Union, and have an Irish Legislature enacting Laws in Old Ireland again; and as a Roman Catholic I would recommend that no farther efforts be made, to obtain our emancipation until, the attempt to obtain a Repeal of the Union be first tried and decided.
I will not now enter into any petty distinctions, which might blast the purport of our present Petition. I will not enter into any disquisition of the schemes and practices of those enemies of our country, who promised that great advantages would result to Ireland on the Act of Union taking place; those promises were made for the purpose of deceiving us, and to crash this country.—Under these circumstances, and impressions on the minds of the Irish Legislature, the Act of Union passed; our liberties and our Legislative Constitution were destroyed; but now what man in this country would come forward and support the measure of Union? I should like to see the colour of his face—I should like to see what sort of beast he was (Applauses.) I have not seen a man with sufficient audacity to do so. If the crime of the Union has affected us, why is it that five millions of voices, from Cape Clear to the Giant's Causeway have not shouted out REPEAL the UNION?—We now present our loyal Petition to the King, praying a Repeal of the Act of Union; that we may again have our Nobility to reside in Ireland, and to have an Irish House of Lords, and an Irish House of Commons: we shall have laws pass in Ireland, to which we give our consent. If a foreign enemy should dare to approach our shores, we would repel them and dash them into the waves. We have seen the great foe to human happiness and public liberty subjugating most of the states of Europe, and dethroning their Kings. The resistance he met from them was feeble;—but when he made war upon a PEOPLE—upon the PEOPLE of SPAIN, he then, for the first time, experienced that a nation fighting for its liberty and for its country, could not be conquered; and after such an illustrious example, is it unnecessary to ask how would Irishmen receive a foreign invader? Mr. O'Connell here made a most animated appeal to the loyalty and patriotism of his hearers; and continued thus:—I wish to have our Parliament restored to us in the same independent situation, as it was in the year 1782, then all causes of discontent would cease, and our trade would revive, and our Nobility and their families would return to Ireland. No man, in this country, will assert that the grievances which I have mentioned do not exist in Ireland; the repeal of the Act of Union will induce the friends of Ireland to unite against the common enemy of mankind. [Loud cries of hear! hear!] The friends of Ireland will unite to preserve the Constitution of Ireland in Church and State. Our Legislature will then pass such laws of taxation as are in proportion to the real state of the country; for unless our commerce is encouraged, our taxes cannot be discharged. But what has been the mode of calculation adopted by the Imperial Parliament? We have had some experience of it for these ten years past, and therefore we have reason to be dissatisfied with it. We wish to have an Irish Parliament, who knows the nature and resources of the country. In the Imperial Parliament there is scarcely a man who has a knowledge of the commercial interests of Ireland. The Repeal of the Union will put down the Hydra of opposition, all religious dissensions will be abolished.

Rathkeale, have given a number of volunteers to the line. Major-General H. Clinton, Adjutant-Gen. and Major Gen. W. H. Clinton, Quarter Master-Gen. inspected on Wednesday last, the Barracks of this City, and also the Commissariat Stores, both of which they were well pleased with. They left this City on Thursday morning, for Athlone, and intend to arrive in Dublin this day. Monday last, General Lee arrived in Clonmel. Admiral Morsom, is on a tour inspecting the Ordnance of this kingdom—he arrived in this Garrison on Monday, and after examining particularly the Department here, he set off for Athlone. Sir Edward O'Brien, Bart. M.P. and his Lady, have arrived at his seat Dromoland, from England—they are at present on a visit at his Brother-in-Law's, Thomas Arthur, Esq. at Glanamera. The Earl Spencer, Lieut. Bothwell, sailed on Thursday from Cove for Bantry, to wait the orders of Admiral Thornborough, in his intended survey of that bay, and its adjacent coast. The Admiral proceeded yesterday, by land. Government intend to erect necessary works at Bantry, for the accommodation of a naval station. A squadron during the winter, is to rendezvous at Beerhaven, at the mouth of Bantry bay. Messrs. Patterson & Spaight, of the port of Kilrush, are appointed Agents for supplying his Majesty's ships and vessels in the Shannon, with Rum. Sir Thomas and Lady Acland, and the Rev. Dr. Woodford, arrived in this City on Thursday, after visiting the Lakes of Killarney. The Quarterly Examinations for the Classes of Senior and Junior Sophisters, of Trinity College, Dublin, will be held on the 22d and 23d October next; and for the Classes of Senior and Junior Freshmen, on 25th & 26th. Thursday the Senatus Academicus of the University of Edinburgh conferred the Degree of Doctor in Medicine on the following Gentlemen from Ireland, after having gone through the appointed examinations, and publicly defended their inaugural dissertations:— Edward Barlow, De Febre Hectica; George Reed, De Febre Continua Contagiosa; Geo. Gumbleton Rogers, De Rheumatismo; Austen Dickinson, De Optimis Rationibus Sanitatis Caservandae; William Pitton, De Pneumonia; Thomas Lucas, De Scarbula; Arthur Johnston, De Phthisi Pulmonali; Eugene O'Callaghan, De Hydropho. A man of the name of Moore, went to value some Tythes on the parish of Ballybeacon, Co. Tipperary, on Friday se'night, accompanied by John Henton, a police man: they were fired on by a man of the name of David Larny, who was amply armed for the purpose. On hearing of the outrage, Mr. Clutterbuck, of Kilgrory, pursued Larny, who took to the mountain, and on being overtaken snapped and missed fire at Mr. Clutterbuck, who instantly rode in upon him and secured him.—Larny was brought into Clonmel, bound, and hearing, tied upon him, his own arms, consisting of a gun cut short, a blunderbuss, and a case of pistols. Yesterday evening, two Women and five Men, were brought into our Jail from Galway, by a Military guard, and this morning proceeded for Cork, there to be transported to Botany Bay. Edward Power, youngest son of Mr. R. T. Power, amusing himself on the quay of Waterford, on Saturday last, fell in and was unfortunately drowned. NAVAL APPOINTMENTS.—Captain Edward Brace, to the St. Alban; Capt. W. Lcsack, to the Galatea; Capt. C. Nixon, to the Speedy; Capt. J. D'Auvergne, to the Autumn; Lieut. P. S. Hambly, to the San Juan; Lieuts. A. Parry, and G. Sayer, to the Bedford; Lieut. J. Patte, Hannibal; Lieut. W. Speck, San Josef; Lieut. G. Philpot, Alfred; Lt. W. P. Stevenson, Audacious; Lieut. U. Steele, Horatio. Vice-Admiral Sotheby, we understand, is to succeed Sir John Warren in the command at Halifax. The late apprehension of many, some probably interested,—that the production of the Earth would scarce suffice for the sustenance of Man or Beast, has been most wonderfully frustrated by the over-ruling Providence of the ALMIGHTY! the Harvest in the neighbourhood of this City and adjacent Counties, which has been nearly got in, is abundant—and Potatoes the general food of the Poor, sell this day in quantities, at 3d per stone. The Contractors for the present Lottery are entitled to much praise for withholding (notwithstanding the advantages of their scheme) those modes of puffing which have hitherto been had recourse to. The Sale of Copley & Sheehy, advertised in the First Page of this Paper, is adjourned to Saturday, 29th inst. at which time it will be positively Sold. The Rev. John Talbot, nephew to the Right Hon. the Earl of Glandore, was married on Wednesday last, at Beechmount, the seat of Thomas Lloyd, Esq. by the Right Rev. Charles, Lord Bishop of Limerick, to Miss Jane Lloyd, the fourth daughter of Colonel Lloyd, of this City. BIRTH.—At Athlone, the Lady of Major Lyster, of a son.—In Kilkenny, the Lady of Pierce Forrestal, Esq. of a daughter.—At Hawarden Castle, England, the Hon. Lady Glyne, of a daughter.—At Camden-place, Cork, the lady of Edw. Morrigh, Esq. of a son & heir. DIED.—Wednesday last, Mrs. Stoney, of Arranhill, Co. Tipperary, aged 60:—highly esteemed by all ranks of people, and universally regretted by the poor, her loss may be felt, but not repaid. She was the most affectionate of Mothers, and sincerest of Friends—she was a woman of the strongest feelings and warmest attachments—her whole life was one unvaried scene of anxiety and affection for the happiness of others—she discharged the duties of daughter, sister, wife and mother in a most exemplary degree—she spent her life in the love and fear of GOD, and on her death bed gloried in the pleasing satisfaction of having led thirteen Children to the Sacrament of the LORD'S Supper, eleven of whom are still living, ever to revere her memory, and lament her loss.—Tuesday, in Cork, of a decline, Mr. John Pittman, of the Theatres Royal, Dublin, Limerick & Cork.—In Dublin, lately, Cornelius M'Donough, Esq. Attorney, late of Ennis.—Thursday last, in the bloom of youth and beauty, at Ratany, the residence of her uncle, Miss Eliza Bennett, of Cork, a young lady whose virtue and accomplishments rendered her as dear in life as she is now regretted by her numerous friends and relatives.—At Cadogan Place, Caroline Henriette, aged 20 years, youngest daughter of the late Hon. George Napier.—On Thursday, in John's-street, much regretted, Mrs. Herbert, relict of late Mr. Thomas Herbert, of Fanningstown, in this Co. MARKET PRICES.—Wheat, 1s. 7½d. to 2s. 3d. per stone.—Barley, 13½d to 00d.—Old Oats, 15d. to 16d. New Oats, 10d to 00d per stone.—Pork, 00. per cwt.—Flour, per cwt. 2d, 3s. 0d to 0s. 0d.; 3d, 2s. to 2s. —4th, 2s. 9d.—Oatmeal, 1s. to 2s. per cwt.—Potatoes 3d to 2½d per st.

JAMES RYAN, Glove and Breeches Manufacturer, NO. 2, GEORGE'S-STREET, LIMERICK, WILL LET the LODGINGS of his HOUSE, that he has lately fitted up in an Elegant Style, the Apartments large and Commodious, and the Situation as good and wholesome as any in this City, together with a Newly Built Back Store, fit for any use, the whole to be Let together or separate, and immediate Possession given. Limerick, Sept. 22, 1810. Wanted a Private Tutor, IN A FAMILY IN THE COUNTRY, A SINGLE Man that understands the Classics, and a tolerable share of Arithmetic, who will meet with liberal Encouragement.—Also wanted, an Under-Miller, well recommended for Sobriety and Honesty.—Apply to Messrs. WATSON & MAHONY, or at KILMORE MILLS. Sept. 22, 1810. To be Sold, RICHMOND PLACE, EAST. TWO SHARES IN THE MOUNTAIN BUILDINGS, RICHMOND PLACE, EAST, LIMERICK: On which the entire DEBENTS have been paid. Apply to Mess. WATSON & MAHONY, King's-Arms, Limerick. Sept. 22, 1810. NOTICE. JAMES KENNEDY, late of the City Limerick, and now of the City Dublin; Merchant, do hereby give Notice, to all whom it may concern, that I intend to cause an application to be made to the Imperial Parliament of Great Britain and Ireland, at the next Sessions thereof, for an Act for building and Completing and finishing a TOLL BRIDGE, over the RIVER SHANNON, near the City Limerick, and within Seven Furlongs thereof, between the Lands of Corbally, in the Liberties of said City of Limerick, Parish of Saint Patrick, and the Lands of Athlonecord, in the County Clare, and Parish of Kilquinn, at that part of said River Shannon, where part of said Bridge is already made and now in Prosecution, which said place is known by the name of Kennedy's Bridge. And where there are Public Roads made at both sides thereof:—And I give this intimation pursuant to the Notice of the Parliamentary Agent, as to Applications to the Imperial Parliament for Private Bills.—Dated this 20th day September, 1810. JAMES KENNEDY. GAME LICENSES. A LIST of the NAMES and PLACES of ABODE, OF the several PERSONS, who have taken out LICENSES for Killing GAME, agreeable to Act of Parliament; from the Distributors of Stamps, for the County and City of Limerick, between the 25th day March, 1810, and the 20th day of September, 1810. John Massy Bolton, Esq. Massy-Park. Saul Bruce, Esq. Castle-Cornell. John Bayle, Esq. Limerick. Thomas Boyd, Esq. Waterford. Rev. William Butler, Esq. Castle-Crin. Edward Crips, Esq. Kilspeacon. Rev. Richard Cox, Esq. Cahircorlish. Thomas Chayton, Esq. Limerick. Francis Despard, Esq. Tomaline. John O'Donohue, Esq. Limerick. Edward Griffin, Esq. Glin. Gerald Griffin, Esq. Corrigg. Poole Gabbett, Esq. Glenwood. Rev. John Graves, Esq. Fort William. Rev. James W. Graves, Esq. Fort William. John Hewson, jun. Esq. Castle-Hewson. Captain Thomas Heard, Esq. Limerick. John Hunt, Esq. Ballynort. Townsend M. Hall, Esq. Eriaga. Thomas Keck, Esq. Fethard. Captain Thomas Keck, Esq. Fethard. John Lowe, Esq. Kilfrush. Hugh Massy, Esq. Stagdole. Honorable John Massy, Esq. Massy-Park. Hugh Massy, Esq. Glenville. Rev. Charles Massy, Esq. Summer-Hill. Robert G. Maunsell, Esq. Limerick. James M'Namara, Esq. Ayle. William Odell, Esq. Grove. Alexander Odell, Esq. Ballygrean. Richard Palliser, Esq. Bunratty. Thomas Poole, Esq. Ballyanker. Edward Power, Esq. Kilkenny. William Parsons, Esq. Craibeg. Richard Anderson Rose, Esq. Foxhall. Mathew Reddan, Esq. Tomgreany. David Roche, jun. Esq. Carras. Thomas Rose, Esq. Adare. John Rose, Esq. Adare. George Tutill, Esq. Faha. Thomas Phillips Vokes, Esq. Kilkoleman. Exham Vincent, Esq. Violet-Hill. Henry Warner, Esq. Rathkeale. Feltham Watson, Esq. Nenagh. Rev. Charles Warburton, Esq. Castlebar. Rev. John Warburton, Esq. Limerick. James Wall, Esq. Limerick. James Willington, Esq. Limerick. Certified by me, PHILIP WALSH, Distributor of Stamps, for the Co. of City Limerick. Dublin Insurance Company, AGAINST FIRE, ESTABLISHED for Twenty-six years with a Grand Capital Stock, and composed of the first Merchants, Bankers and Traders in this Kingdom, continue to Insure Houses, Furniture and Stock in Trade against FIRE, upon as low Terms as any other respectable Company in Great Britain or Ireland. Orders for Insurance received, and every necessary information given by the Agent Mr. A. WATSON, King's-Arms, Limerick.

OLD UPLAND To be Sold at Green Near PATRICK'S-W ABOUT 30 TONS of Excellent Old Upland PERSONS desirous to purchase will be accommodated. MR. JOHN GUT Will Let or Sell from the 29th THE INTEREST of House, in Upper Geo WHERE he lately resided:— and fit for any Family. Application to him, at Mr. Street, Limerick. TO BE LET From the 29th of SEPT A Small Compact S To In THOMAS'S Adjoining the Stores of Messrs Enquire of JOHN O'MEARA Irish Cloths, Coatings & Equal in Texture—Superior And considerably Cheaper RICHARD ROO Acquaints his Friends and has received a General Assor which being the first offered for will dispose of at the Lowest possible N. B.—His Wholesale Ware well supplied with every Article Manchester Line, which he bought from the best Manufacturers, and will sell much Cheaper House. EXCISE-OFF LIMERICK, SEPT TO BE SOLD ON SATURDAY, 29th AT THE OFFICE OF A large Quantity of FOR BREACHES OF THE R THOMAS FITZ-G STUDDERT & G HAVE FOR SALE, AT STORES IN KILRUSH AND Dram Timber an Of the best description and on the m THEY ARE AS USUAL SUP A Variety of V IN TIMBER AND BO Crown Glafs, &c. Limerick, S TO BE LET TOGETHER or in DI FROM THE 25th OF MA FOR SUCH TERM AS MAY BE ABOUT TWO HUNDRED AND FIF Lands of LICKA SITUATE three Miles from Lin Liberties of the City, and no Kennedy, Timothy Mulcahy, Tho and William Ward.—Tenants at * * * Proposals, in Writing, w THOMAS ARTHUR, Esq. Glan DONAT O'BRIEN, Esq. Cratloe, Se TO BE LET FOR SUCH TERM AS MAY B FROM 29th DAY OF SEPT. OR THE HOUSE, OFFICES AN KNIG With any Quantity of Land, fro THE House and Offices have l and with little further Expenc for the reception of any Gentlema KNIGH is situate in the Barony Co. of Tipperary, within two Mi Nenagh, and one and an half of th Shannon, possesses many Advanta of the best Quality in that Country William Quinlan, at Knigh, wi Application to be made to Re at Inane, near Roscrea. TO BE LET FOR SUCH TERM AS MAY I AND IMMEDIATE POSSESS With or without a Fine, or th THE MILLS of CAST TOGETHER with Thirteen LAND thereto attached, Rathkeale. One of the MILLS w ingly well as a DISTILLERY. Proposals, in Writing, to be ma of Charleville, and to Mr. Rathkeale.